Nursery to Stage Giant Rummage Sale

A rummage sale featuring baby furniture and children's clothes will be held Friday, June 8, starting at 10 a.m. at the Torrance Civic Auditorium, corner of Cravens and El Prado. The Torrance Cooperative Nursery School parents are sponsoring the event as a fund raising project for their building fund.

Although all types of articles will be included in the sale, a particularly good selection of infants and children's clothing in good condition will be the main contribution of the mothers' committee headed by Mrs. Rodney Mills, chairman, and assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Boulder, Mrs. Robert Evans and Mrs. Robert Fiebig. They are also in charge of the volunteer parents who will staff the sale.

The Nursery School is affiliated with the Torrance Adult Education Department which provides parent education for the mothers and fathers of the children enrolled in the nursery school. At the last meeting on May 28, the guest speaker following a potluck dinner was Dr. David Ruj, psychologist.

The next meeting of the evening class will be the final one for the year on June 11 at the Torrance High School Teachers' Cafeteria. The class is open to the public, and children may be enrolled in the morning nursery school for next year by contacting Mrs. Russell Schroeder.
