TORRANCE WOMAN'S CLUB ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN UNDERWAY

For the advancement of culture, civic betterment and philanthropy in the fastest growing community in the Southland, the Torrance Woman's Club, which has marked phenomenal growth in membership and has brought numerous recognitions to Torrance among women's clubs of the Southland, is now staging its annual membership campaign.

With the theme "Side by Side" chosen by the 1956-57 president, Mrs. L. A. McCoy, the club is looking forward to an outstanding year of accomplishments. At her installation, Mrs. McCoy stressed the importance of each member, comparing the club to a wheel with the membership at-large, serving as the spokes of the wheel. "With the full cooperation of the membership and the officers and directors, the Torrance Woman's club will go forward," said Mrs. McCoy.

The club, which was organized 35 years ago by a small group of women who called themselves The Vista Highland Neighborhood Club now boasts a membership of more than 147 members. This organizational meeting was held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Gilbert in 1921. Mrs. C. W. Stock was the first president and serving with her were Mrs. O. Otley, vice president; Mrs. T. Harris, secretary, and Mrs. A. C. Reese, treasurer. Among the charter members were Misses Bert Crossland, Mueller, Margaret Davids, D. A. Barnard, M. Beckwith, J. S. Miller, J. Young, John Sach, Jeanette Dean, Brawnman, and E. Gall.

They met in various homes and their first big project was a pie and candy sale, proceeds of which went to purchase an American flag.

FEDERATE IN 1921
On May 26, 1921, this group chose the name "Woman's Club of Torrance" and in November of that year, with 57 members, entered the district and state federation. They made themselves popular with their philanthropies of aid to the disabled veterans and assisted the "legion boys." They joined forces to "Save the Redwoods" and served the Chamber of Commerce dinner.

It was in 1925 that they purchased the lots on Engracia Ave. to build their clubhouse which was dedicated in October of that year with Wallace Post as spokesman. Mrs. C. H. Parks was club president.

And now, 35 years later, the club boasts a clubhouse and properties' investment of $35,000.

SPONSOR JUNIORS Throughout the club year Due to the increase in popu-esting federation program which includes lectures on education, gardening, parliamentary law, radio and television, and other current issues of the day. These meetings are held at the Federation headquarters in Los Angeles.

In the words of its president, in her building dedication speech, "First to kindness, for kindness begets a broader vision . . . and to progress, for if we have kindness, tolerance and understanding, we shall progress."

club members are asked to submit names of prospective club members, who are then endorsed by two club members. The prospective club members are then called upon by the membership committee and invited to join the club.

This year, plans are under way for an informal coffee klatch for new and prospective members before the beginning of the club year.
