

Indian Youth To Benefit by Special Gifts

Better educational and health facilities for America's Indian young people is the objective of a special offering to which members of the Torrance Seventh-day Adventist Church will contribute on Saturday.

A co-educational boarding school for Navajo and other Indian youngsters at Holbrook, Ariz., and Monument Valley mission school and clinic at Monument Valley, Utah, are two projects which will benefit from the offering according to Pastor Glenn L. Goffar.

The Holbrook school annually provides educational opportunities for some 125 students, ranging in age from six to twenty. Because of lack of facilities, hundreds more have to be turned away each year from the 10-grade school, established in 1947 by the Adventist denomination.

Students, mostly Navajos, come to the school from pagan homes where devil worship is still practiced, unable to speak, read or write English, and teachers have to teach these youngsters English first. There are some 14,000 school-age Navajos alone in Arizona and Southern Utah for whom there are no school facilities. The special offering will help to correct this problem.

The church's Monument Valley Mission provides medical help for thousands of Navajos in this remote Utah area. Tuberculosis is still a scourge, as is malnutrition, and the infant mortality rate is high. Marvin and Gwen Walter, an ordained minister and registered nurse, operate the mission which they founded in 1950.

The special Saturday offering will be used to provide more help to these Americans, long neglected by society, Pastor Goffar commented.

The prelude by Mrs. Florence Jolley will be "Arioso," by Bach, and the postlude will be an improvisation on "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." The soloist, Mrs. Elizabeth DeVries will sing "Come, Ye Blessed," by Scott. The anthems will be "Abide With Me," by Monk and "O Lord, Most Holy," by Brulker.

All choirs will meet this week. Today at 4 p.m. the Cherub Choir will convene. Also today, at 4:30 p.m., the Carol Choir for grades one and two, will meet and at 7:30 p.m. the Senior Choir will rehearse. The Junior High Choir will meet at 8:45 a.m. on Sunday, just before church school.

GROUND BREAKING SOON . . . Christ the King Lutheran Church will build its first unit at 182nd St. and Crenshaw in the near future, it was announced during the week by Rev. Maynard V. Midthun, pastor. To be built on four acres of land, the first unit will include offices, Sunday School rooms, and the chapel to seat 300. Groundbreaking is scheduled in a few weeks.

Methodists Plan Service

Church school at the First Methodist Church, 1551 El Prado, will observe promotion day on Sunday.

Each class will be escorted to its new room and greeted by its new teacher. All regularly enrolled new fourth graders whose parents are in attendance with them at the Youth at Worship service in the Sanctuary at 10:10, will be presented with a copy of the Bible, a joint gift from their parents and the church. Regularly enrolled students are those who were officially enrolled by their parents and have attended a class a least three Sundays.

At the 11 o'clock worship service, there will be service of baptism and reception of new members. Parents wishing to have children baptized should call the church office during the week.
