

Franklin Flays King on Sport Fishing Stand

Speaking before the 46th District Republican Assembly, Monday evening, congressional nominee Charles Franklin accused his opponent of failure to support the sports fishermen of the 17th District.

"Early this year," stated Franklin, "my opponent issued press releases to the papers in which he highly praised a Senate bill which would have created a commission to place control of sports fishing in hands which would have done it great harm. The sportsmen were, and still are, extremely upset by the fact that commercial fishing interests control my opponents actions in Congress."

Franklin proposed a four-point program to improve the status of sportsmen in the district.

"It is extremely important that a man friendly to sports interests be appointed to the new Undersecretary of Interior post created in the last session of Congress. The federal government, through the Army and Navy, should stop removing great tracts of land from access to hunting and fishing. The proposed Feather River Project should be open at all times to sports fishermen. The waters within the three-mile limit should be the exclusive domain of sports fishermen."

ON CAMPAIGN TRAIL... Adlai Stevenson and Allan K. Jonas chat during recent meeting along the campaign trails. Stevenson, of course, is shooting for the nation's highest office; Jonas is seeking to unseat Charles Chapel in the 46th Assembly District.
