Business Women Honor Hubbies With Saturday Evening Party

By BETTY MITCHELL
DA 6-4438

One of the best parties of the season was given at the Nick-el's Ranch last Saturday evening when the Walteria Business Women's Club had a "Men's Night" with all the hubbies invited.

Arranging the whole affair was a committee composed of Mrs. W. L. J. Labit, Mrs. C. Sorensen, Dr. Eleanore Thill and Mrs. Dick Wood.

These clever ladies set the party mood by setting a huge scarecrow dummy at the door. As the guests progressed to the dinner and game room they were met by the gay sight of orange and black streamers and lanterns, while the table was done with small witch hats with orange and black streamers.

Each guest was re-christened for the evening with a new name which they wore 'round their neck on a huge sign. Since such monikers as "Peg-tunia" and "Stinker" were in evidence, a lot of laughs were evolved. Guests enjoyed a ham dinner and later, bunco and dancing.

president of the club, gave a short welcoming speech for all the male guests.

Those having a gay time included Mr. and Mrs. M. Moton, Mr. and Mrs. C. Sorensen, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Don D. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wagner, Mr. Naomi Nancel and Loring Biglow who won first prize as bunco players, Don Matthews and Lea Wagner who collected the most pins during the evening, Paula Brown, and Frank Fisher who won the consolation prizes in Bunco.

Thanks go this week to the many readers who went to the Scout Hall last Saturday to lend a helping hand to the work in progress. Because of the larger number of helpers a lot was accomplished.

The inside of the hall was painted by Mr. Jack Brown, while Roger Busch stuccoed the outside with many willing hands assisting him. The water pipe was also laid.

Next Saturday, the work will go on again, so help will be very welcome.

The annual Walteria PTA

Carnival will be held tomorrow at the school. A new feature and Mrs. L. L. Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stimson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. A. Muir, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Whann, Mr. and Mrs. R. Parsons, Mr. George Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Nancel, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. (Dr. Eleanore) E. A. Thill, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Sleeth Sr., and Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Labit.

Lucky prize winners were set.

With inscribed plaque on pins will be on the proud again when the school has its annual costume parade at 1:15 on the school grounds. This parade will be for both morning and afternoon classes.

This has been a busy week for the Cub Scouts in our town. On Friday night, Jack Bausman was installed as new cub master for this area.

Before a big turn-out of moms and dads the outgoing master, Bill Addington, introduced Bausman to the group and performed the simple ceremony by the repeating of the cub-scout vow.

The Walteria Business Men's Club honored Addington and the service he has rendered the community in the capacity of Cub-Scout Master during the past year by presenting him with a gold and marble desk ture this year will be a ham dinner for 75 cents. There will be all the booths of the past, with a cake-walk included.

In school this week, the intermediate and upper grades are participating in a cake-baking contest with prizes to be awarded the best decorated cake in each room. These cakes will be donated to the cake walk.

Of course, witches and goblins.

The local library has recently been recipient of a donation by the Walteria Kiwanis Club. The Club gave the library $25 toward the purchase of children's books for the War Memorial group of books which remain permanently in the Walteria Library, instead of being used in libraries throughout the county.

In the months to follow, the Kiwanis will add to this contribution until a total of $100 has been so donated. The local club also gave a blooded heifer recently to the Spanish-American Institute on Figueroa St.

Speaking of the Boy and Cub Scouts reminds us that on Nov. 3 the boys are working on a "get out the vote" campaign. They will put liberty Bell folders on every door-knob in this vicinity with approximately 2,000 being distributed in all.

Then on Nov. 4, the Cubs are having a family outing with all the cubs and parents going to tour the Chrysler assembly plant in Los Angeles with free lunch and fun to be had by all.

Thirty-five teen-agers had a rip-roaring good time last Saturday night when they had a Halloween dance sponsored by the Walteria Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Under the leadership of Dale and Shirley Cooper and Leo and Dixie Smith, the young people had a wonderful party. A "spook alley" had to be walked by all comers which made for a lot of laughs. Apple bobbing, bingo, walk the plank, and other games kept the party a howling success, while hot-cogs, doughnuts, cider and apples were available for those healthy appetites.

Three of the members of the MYF and one of their counselors spent an interesting morning in Redondo Beach Methodist Church when they attended a "workshop" for the conference district. Those attending were Mrs. Leo Smith, Louis Labit, Marion Daniels, and Park Lowell.

Sympathies are being extended this week to the Herb Farris of Danaha St., upon the loss of Mrs. Farris' father, who died suddenly last week.

A group of residents had a thrilling experience last Saturday evening when they attended a concert given by the Westminster Choir.

Attending the program at the Philharmonic Auditorium in Los Angeles were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunter, Miss Jimmie Lou Hoy, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Rampley, Mrs. Bert Pembie, Mrs. Betty Essex, Mrs. William Mitchell, and Mr. and Mrs. John Shioli of Hollywood Riviera.

The Women's Society of Christian Service held its general meeting on last Tuesday evening with president, Mrs. Robert Cramer, presiding.

Most of the business of the evening dealt with the serving and cooking of the annual father and son banquet to be held this Saturday evening by the Methodist Men's Club.

Chairman of this project is Mrs. Jerry Anderson. Mrs. Robert Allison also brought attention to several items dealing with the annual bazaar which will be held this year on Nov. 10.

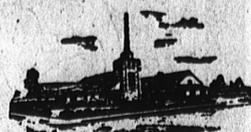

Nov. 2 will be a big date for the local Women's Society since they will hostess the meeting of the United Council of Church Women. Speaker for this date will be Mrs. Kadoni who will speak on "Human Rights." Mrs. Kadoni is vice president of the United Council in the Southern California-Southern Nevada district.

Mrs. Bessie Solomon of the Torrance Episcopal Church will be in charge of the worship service. All who wish to attend the lunch that day will bring their own sack lunch, with the local WSCS furnishing dessert and coffee.
