WEEK-END

Torrance Sets New Building Records

Year 1956 will go on the books as Torrance's greatest so far in building and may be the greatest for some time to come.

Building permits in October pushed the city's total for the year to $45,105,311, some $19,000 ahead of the building totals for 12 months of 1954, the previous record year, according to Walter Bradford, senior clerk in the City Engineer's office.

Although building totals for 1956 will probably pass the $50 million mark for the first time in the city's history, building officials believe that residential construction in the city has reached its peak and that future records will have to be broken by industrial construction. Most of the large vacant spaces in the city have been filled with residential construction in the last few years.

New Parking Lots

Purchase of three lots for downtown parking district which might be used in the future for a multi-story parking building was approved Friday morning by the Torrance city council as it studied the problem of what to do with the city's growing auto population.

Acting on recommendations from traffic expert Ralph Dorsey, the city fathers made several changes in the plans scheduled for the downtown parking district.

Motorist Killed

A Redondo Beach man became the city's 12th traffic fatality of the year in a spectacular crash early Friday.

Anson Arvel Winingham, 26, met sudden death when his 1956 Buick sedan zoomed into a power pole along 190th St., east of Hawthorne Ave., about 1 a.m.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Harbor General Hospital where he was taken by Wright's Ambulance.

Officers Jack Hahn and Sam Piazza said the auto apparently was traveling westerly at a high rate of speed when it failed to negotiate a curve and broadsided into the pole. The impact was so terrific that it peeled back the top of the car and hurled a left side window 48 feet.

Murder Trial Set

Superior Court trial for Fred E. Horsley, 36, charged with the brutal murder of his wife here last month, was ordered following the preliminary hearing Friday before South Bay Municipal Judge Otto B. Willett.

Horsley was ordered held without bail for arraignment in Los Angeles Superior Court on Nov. 16 after Judge Willett denied a defense motion for dismissal of the murder charge.

Leading off a parade of witnesses during the day-long hearing was Dr. W. C. Ridgely, autopsy surgeon with the County Coroner's office. He testified that a postmortem examination revealed that Horsley's wife, Maudie, 34, died of asphyxiation resulting from savage blows to the neck. He said she had not been assaulted sexually. The woman's body bore 16 wounds apparently inflicted by an undetermined weapon.

Old Jail Doomed

Local residents who may have whiled away many happy (or unhappy) hours inside the old city police station and jail at 1511 Cravens Ave. had better take a last fond look, because the building won't be there much longer.

Under terms of a contract approved by the Torrance City Council Friday morning, the building will be torn down by Walter E. Hesse, Gardena, for $1700.

The old police station will go the way of the old fire station, which adjoined it and which was torn down in recent weeks to make way for a new parking lot.

Tartars Defeated

A rock-ribbed Mira Costa defensive line, combined with a driving offense, proved to be the winning combination Friday night as the host Mustangs blanked the local Tartars in Bay League play.

The loss was the first shut-out suffered by Torrance.

Saxon Bees Win

North High's Saxon Bees produced a scoring punch last Thursday afternoon as they ran over the Culver City Lightweights by a 32-14 count.

New Catholic Parish

A pledge drive to raise funds for a new Catholic parish in the Carson area will begin today, according to church officials.

The new church and school, to be known as St. Philomena's, will be located on Main St., between Carson and 220th St. It will be under the direction of Father Callahan, now at St. Peter and Paul's Parish, Wilmington.

Flags for Vets' Day

American flags for display on Veterans' Day, Nov. 11, will be sold by members of Boy Scout Troop 728.

Halloween Is Quiet

Torrance's Halloween was one of the least destructive on record, but police reports indicated that the rowdy element wasn't completely subdued.

Although the "trick-or-treaters," thousands of them, were out mainly for "treats," a few vandals damaged homes, cars, and trees.

Tartar Bees Win

Torrance's Bee footballers maintained their unbeaten string Thursday, but finally were scored upon as the local gridgers downed the Mira Costa Bees, 12-8.

Narbonne Loses

Narbonne's Gauchos ran into a determined Jordan eleven Friday afternoon and were able to push over only one tally before going down in defeat, 12 to 6.

SAFETY HINTS from the Red Cross

This is one of the two motions in the back-pressure-arm lift method of artificial respiration, useful for restoring breathing after a variety of types of asphyxiation — by gas, electric shock, drowning, and others.
