

DESERT TRIP

A relaxing week end at Morongo Valley was the happy plight of the Frank Kelley family, who joined the Ted Myers at the latter's cabin last Friday.

Saturday marked the celebration of daughter Susan's seventh birthday, so the Kellys took their daughters, Kathleen and Susan, and two young friends, Pamela Boswell and Grant Galyard, along for the week end.

The Kellys live at 926 Felbar Ave., Torrance.

FUCHSIA UNIT TO MEET TUESDAY

North Torrance branch of California National Fuchsia Society will meet at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, June 11, at the McMaster Hall.

Margaret Clark, program chairman, announced that the guest speaker will be Kenneth Terry, who will speak on general gardening.

A prize will be awarded for the best costume in the garden parade, in which members will wear gardening outfits.

Door prizes will be awarded and a plant sale will be held.

QUEEN BONNIE MCCOY ... Her Royal Highness

Board Compliments Their Bonnie Queen

A scroll, bearing a gold crest and written in ole English and signed by "the most worthy board" was read in true court fashion to Mrs. Lee A. (Bonnie) McCoy, president of the Torrance Woman's club, by three of her board members, Mrs. Dean Sears, Mrs. Parke Montague and Mrs. Delbert Thomsen one morning about two weeks ago. The court decree was an invitation to a party to be held at the Sears home on last Wednesday.

Last Wednesday morning, a "chauffeured Cadillac" pulled up in front of the McCoy home. Wearing the hats of coachman and footman, Mrs. John Melville and Mrs. Delbert Thomsen escorted their president into the back seat of the car to drive her to her party.

Upon arrival, "The Queen for the Day" stepped out on a royal carpet with her board members "bowing low" as she approached her throne. She was then robed and crowned "Queen" by Mrs. Dean Sears. Her sceptre, made of pink tulle and sequins, was presented by Mrs. D. J. Quinlivan. Carrying out the "Queen for the Day" theme, Mrs. McCoy was presented with a wardrobe from her own closet. Household items, including an ancient chafing dish, percolator, antique creamer and sugar, were also among the gifts presented. Adding fun to the party were the gifts from the board, representative of some "incident" which happened during the past club year. Then came the awarding of the gift "which she had always wanted", a handsome pair of brass candlesticks made in England. After the program, a buffet luncheon was served. Pink begonias and pink candles decorated the buffet. The "Queen's" table was covered with pink tulle and centered with a gold crown filled with pink blossoms flanked with pink candles. Appointments were in crystal and silver.

After the serving of the desert course of strawberry pie and coffee, the afternoon hours were spent playing bridge.

Board members honoring their president were Mmes. R. E. Moffitt, S. J. Dunhouse, John Melville, Dean Sears, D. J. Quinlivan, W. O. Clausung, Parke Montague, Ervin Moudy, Delbert Thomsen, and F. G. Fittin.
