

Symphony Has Tea in Honor Of New Board

A tea honoring the new board members of the South Bay-Torrance Civic Symphony was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Newville, 417 Paseo de la Playa. Jan Darian, dancer, choreographer, and president of the symphony, gave a welcoming speech and introduced Miss Elyse Aehle, symphony conductor. She announced the forthcoming season of concerts and introduced Colette Nance and Edmundo Najera, who will be featured in the opening program. The new board members include Mayor Albert Isen and Miss Carol Armstrong of Torrance. Also honored at the tea were Mrs. and Mrs. Eugene Singer, vice president of the Music Commission, and Mrs. Charles Houghton, president of the Peninsula Committee of the Los Angeles Philharmonic. Mrs. Isen and other mayors' wives served at the tea and punch tables.

NEW HOME . . . The Torrance Men's Shop, which has been outfitting local men for 15 years, has moved into new quarters at 1329 Sartori Ave. The completely renovated shop will feature name brands for boys as well as men.

ANYTHING FOR MEN . . . D. E. Stoner, Bill Byrne and Lou Schlanger look over some of the pants featured in the new home of the Torrance Men's Shop. The store will hold its grand opening today, tomorrow, and Saturday, with free gifts for customers.

Torrance Men's Store Opens in New Location

After 15 years of outfitting Torrance men in its old location, the Torrance Men's Shop has outfitted itself with a remodeled and renovated new home at 1329 Sartori Ave., next door to its old location. The store will hold grand opening ceremonies this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with free men's gifts to be given away to customers.

Jack and Lou Schlanger, proprietors, announced that the store also will feature complete outfits for boys as well as men. They also are adding the Pendleton line of clothes, as well as Hart, Schaffner & Marx, Arrow, Interwoven, and California brands which they have carried in the past.

The store, in the old California Bank building, has been completely remodeled and renovated, featuring the latest in suits, shirts, sweaters, hats, and anything the well-dressed male might want for his wardrobe. Modern windows in front of the store show off many of the latest fashions for men. In addition to the Schlangers, D. E. Stoner, Bill Byrne, and George Kuhn also are on hand to serve customers.
