

New Budget Aids Local Freeways, Senator Reports

By RICHARD RICHARDS
State Senator

The new budget just adopted by the State Highway Commission for the 1958-59 fiscal year will materially extend freeway construction in Los Angeles County.

It will also bring freeway access to a number of communities which have been experiencing an increasingly pressing need for speedier transportation facilities.

The allocation of $8,700,000 for the eight-lane extension of the Harbor Freeway from 124th to 190th St. is especially good news for the cities of Compton, Gardena and Torrance, and other communities in the harbor area. Of the total sum noted above $6,000,000 will be financed in the 1958-59 fiscal year.

Cities Back Project
City councils and chambers of commerce in these cities have all been working hard for this particular extension, and their cooperation has been most helpful in obtaining the additional five miles represented by the newly budgeted extension.

Also of interest to the harbor area is the addition of a six-lane extension of three and a half miles to the Long Beach Freeway between the Santa Ana and San Bernardino Freeways.

Another area that has felt the pinch of increasing congestion and lack of rapid access to central locations is the San Fernando Valley, which will benefit to the extent of $26,000,000 in the new state highway budget.

This amount will provide for the completion of the Ventura Freeway (U.S. 101) within the valley, west from the junction with the Hollywood Freeway; and the extension of the Golden State Freeway (U.S. 99) through and north of Burbank. Two units, one of them the largest single project in state highway history, will fill in the present gaps in the Ventura Freeway west of North Hollywood.

This record-breaking project, estimated to cost a total of $11,100,000, will cover the four-mile section between Laurel Canyon Blvd. and the Interchange now under construction at the junction of the San Diego Freeway.

The other construction item on the Ventura Freeway is for the section between Encino Ave. and slightly west of Kevin Ave., estimated at a total of $7,900,000. This work will connect two sections now under construction, one between Sepulveda Blvd. and Encino Ave., and the other between Kevin Ave. and Calabasas.

On the Golden State Freeway, the major project in the San Fernando Valley provides for nearly four miles of construction between Burbank Blvd. and Roscoe Blvd. This freeway work will adjoin the construction scheduled to begin shortly between Alameda Ave. and Burbank Blvd., which in turn adjoins the recently completed section between the Los Angeles River and Alameda Ave.

Still another project, of lesser cost but of great importance to the communities of Lancaster and Palmdale, is that of widening to four lanes a nine-mile section of the Sierra Hwy.

Dr. Gibbons Opens Office

Dr. John R. Gibbons, D. C., who recently returned from London, England, where he had studied at the Royal College, will formally open his new chiropractic offices tomorrow at 26333 Western Ave., in Lomita Pines.

Dr. Gibbons is a native of San Pedro, graduating from the San Pedro High school. He attended USC and was graduated with a degree in chiropractic from the Cleveland college in Los Angeles.

While continuing his studies in London, the local doctor made his home with Dr. Charles Barber, noted osteopathic surgeon, who clientele included members of royalty. Dr. Gibbons is a member of the International Chiropractic Assn.
