EL CAMINO CHRISTMAS CONCERT SLATED TODAY

El Camino College will present its 11th annual Christmas concert today, giving two performances in the Campus Theater, one at 4 p.m. and one at 8 p.m.

Capacity crowds for the showings are anticipated. Tickets for the performances must be secured in advance, although there will be no admission charge. The public is invited to attend the annual presentation of the combined music department.

Tickets available at the student store on campus. The teacher ticket office will open at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m., Merl F. Sloan, director of student personnel, announced.

Early theatergoers may visit the 1957 display of Madonna Row, which will be unveiled Sunday in front of the college administration building, 16007 Crenshaw Blvd. Art students will be available to give brief lecture tours, noting the background of each of the nine art reproductions prepared by Miss Mildred K. Walker and members of her classes. Participating in the college concert will be the cappella choir, community choir, vocal ensemble, and orchestra. The choral groups are under the baton of R. Neil Hill, while Calvin Greer is instructor and conductor of the instrumentalists.

Soloists Named
Vocal soloists will be students of Dr. R. Gordon Orme and Crist Mikkelsen.

"The Christmas Story," a recitative cantata by Heinrich Schutz, is the title of the concert presentation. It is said to be the achievement that suitably crowns the long life of one of music's greatest masters.

Soloists to be featured are Robert Hill, evangelist; Pat Doffing, Marjorie Gibson and Lynn Rupert, angels; Shirley Barnes, Mavis Ricketts and Peggy McKnight, shepherds; Jean Herman, Larry Schenck and Bill Horst, wise men; Norm Collins, Sherwood Tierman, Louis Higginbotham and Jack Vaughn, priests and scribes, and Bruce Steiner, herod.

Narrator will be Roger Wright.

Firemen Put Out Blaze
A small fire started in a washing machine at the Robert Wade residence, 25714 Crest Rd., late Wednesday was quickly put out by firemen using carbon dioxide extinguishers.

Charities that will benefit from these pledges are American Cancer Society, American Red Cross, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, City of Hope, Community Chest, Crippled Children's Society, Heart Assn., Multiple Sclerosis, Sister Kenny Foundation, and the charity of the giver's choice.

Ryan Workers Honored for AID Response

Employees at the Torrance plant of Ryan Aeronautical Co. were honored recently for their outstanding contributions to charities through participation in AID-UNITED GIVERS. Division Manager G. D. Rutherford was presented with the employe certificate of commendation by Albert Isen, mayor of Torrance.

Isen, in making the presentation, praised the Ryan employes for the excellent job they were doing to assist the less fortunate in their community.

"It is said that the way to judge a man's worth is to see what he has done for his community and fellow men. By this standard you can be more than proud of your entire personnel," Isen said. Rutherford stated that he was accepting the certificate on behalf of the employes who gave so generously.

Also recipient of a special Certificate of Appreciation was Personnel Assistant H. E. Babush for his work as AID chapter chairman. Through the efforts of Mr. Babush and his campaign team, over 64 per cent of the employes pledged to assist their local charities through AID-UNITED GIVERS.

CATES WILL HEAD ASCE

W. H. Cates, contracting manager - hydraulic sales, Consolidated Western Steel Division of United States Steel Corp., was installed Thursday as the new president of the American Society of Civil Engineers for the Los Angeles Section.

Cates, whose term of office is for one year, has been active in the American Society of Civil Engineers since 1925, as well as a number of other professional organizations. These are the American Water Works Assn., National Assn. of Corrosion Engineers, and the Society of American Military Engineers.
