Saxon Quintet Downed By Culver City Five, 68-52

By JERRY REYNOLDS

Culver City's Centaur hoopsters rolled to an easy 68-52 victory over the visiting North High Saxons before a crowd of about 300 fans at the Centaur gym on Friday night. It was the seventh loss in nine league starts for the Saxon quint, and the sixth victory for Culver City.

Tom McFerson led the Centaurs in scoring, collecting a total of 19 points on seven buckets from the floor and five charity tosses. Jim Machado was second Culver high man with 17 points on eight two-pointers and a free throw. Gary Little was Saxon high man with 18 points which he got on eight field goals and a double giveaway. Tony Mance, the North five's number one scorer, was held to six points, to up his season total to 331.

Culver City took the opening jump and proceeded to build up a lead which they had stretched to 22 points late in the third quarter, when the Saxons began their usual climb back but it was too late and Culver was assured of victory. The fast moving Centaurs were hitting from every corner of the court, sinking jump shots from 30 feet out and just couldn't be touched.

While the Varsity clashes at Culver City were going on the Saxon bees were at home grinding out a one-point victory in an overtime period which virtually assured Dick Winn's bees of a Pioneer League championship and a ticket to the CIF prelims.

Pioneer League action concludes next week when the Saxon fives host Beverly Hills on Friday. Varsity action begins at 7:00 in the North gym, while the bees and cees travel to Beverly for an afternoon game.
