MRS. ROSS JEFFREY STEVENS

... On Florida Honeymoon (Simms Studio)

Gail Davis Is Now Mrs. Ross Stevens

Miss Gail Elizabeth Davis was a radiant bride as she walked down the aisle of the First Christian Church on the arm of her father to exchange her wedding vows with Ross Jeffrey Stevens. The wedding took place on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 22. The church was beautifully decorated with tall baskets of white and salmon gladioli, stock, carnations and chrysanthemums and tall white candles. The bridal path was marked with white satin and tulle bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Davis, 2413 Andeo, and Mr. and Mrs. Olive Stevens of San Pedro are parents of the bridegroom.

The wedding gown was an Angelo original. The fitted bodice and scalloped neckline were edged with lace, pearls and sequins. The tip-toe length billowy skirt was of layers of tulle with lace inserts. Her lace edged illusion veil cascaded from a pearl and sequin coronet and she carried a sheaf of white tulips and carnations.

Miss Helen Sands was the maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length D'Ora original of white embroidered organdy over deep salmon taffeta. Her hat was of salmon tulle and ribbon. Her bouquet was of salmon tulips tied with matching tulle and satin.

Bridesmaids were Misses Jofran Ruben and Charlene Todd. Their gowns were also of the white embroidered organdy over pale salmon taffeta. Salmon tulips formed their bouquets.

As the 200 wedding guests assembled, Mrs. Eleanor Hanes played a medley of nuptial music and accompanied Wesley Smith, who sang "You'll Never Walk Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer."

William Stevens stood as his brother's best man and ushers were Robert Bowles, Sam Sardisco, George Abramovic and Tony Johnson. The Rev. H. M. Sippel, pastor, officiated at the double

A Paris Holiday

New Spring Styles Sparkle at Affair

Against a Parisian background, Torrance Mannequins will model beautiful spring fashions from Moore's Women's Shop Monday, March 9, at 8 p.m., in the First Christian Church Fellowship Hall.

With "A Paris Holiday" as the theme of this year's fashion show, Haiti Group of the Christian Church hope to give everyone attending a brief glimpse of Paris and the latest fashions, in time for Easter.

In addition to women's fashions modeled by Torrance Mannequins who have generously donated their time, there will be beautiful children's clothes from Taddies Kiddyland located in Carson Plaza. These clothes will be modeled by Debra Wheatley, Sharon and Virginia McKim, Diane Warden, LeAnn Fisher, Kathy Stewart, Steven Theberge, and Douglas Cooke, children of Haiti Group members.

During intermission there will be a "Quick Trip to the French Riviera" by the Haiti Group; Mrs. Ralph George will sing, accompanied by Mrs. Donald King, and door prizes will be awarded. Refreshments will be served following the show.

Serving on the planning committee with Mrs. Ray Stewart, group leader, are Mmes. James Warden, Robert Vroman, Cleve Carlson, Roy Bayer. Also assisting the planning committee are Mmes. Lewis Simpson, Stewart Cooke, Joe Dow, D. E. Fillman, Wm. McKim, Jack Montgomery, Raymond Fisher, Eugene Theberge, J. Joseph, and Mrs. Marion Wheatley. Joe Dow has donated his time and talents as set designer. Tickets will be available at the door.

Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cunningham who recently returned from a two year stay in Africa entertained a group of friends Saturday evening at their home.

The guests were entertained by motion pictures taken by the Cunninghams in Africa and others taken by Mrs. Cunningham on her tour through Europe. Also of interest was the collection of items gathered by the couple during the trip abroad. At midnight, the hostess served a buffet supper.

Enjoying the party were Messrs. and Mmes. Lyle O'Hara, Leroy Armstrong, John Brislin and Joseph Lucas.

A three tiered wedding cake was baked and decorated for the honored couple by Mrs. Roxie Best. Carol Ann Lynch, granddaughter was in charge of the guest book and Joy Pearman served the punch.

YOUR PROBLEMS

"We ALL Want To Be Loved"

Dear Ann: My wife and I have been happily married for 12 years. We have four fine children, own our own home and everything in it. The trouble is my wife is too big-hearted. She is always giving things away.

Around Christmas she heard of a family with seven kids who didn't have any heat in the house because the furnace had fallen apart. She took the money she'd been saving all year for an automatic washing machine, and bought these total strangers an oil burner.

She bought shoes for two kids who live near our place of business—just picked them off the street, you might say, and bought them each a pair of oxfords, along with our own kids. I told her this was nutty but she just laughed and said it was "more fun than a picnic."

We are NOT rich people, Ann. Do you think perhaps her generosity is caused by a hunger to be loved? Maybe she's a little "sick sick sick" (as you say)—DICK.

Dear Dick: Now don't go dragging Freud into it and spoil everything. We ALL want to be loved. The human is a complicated animal motivated by countless drives. Quit trying to psychoanalyze your wife. She sounds like a wonderful woman who knows how to get fun out of life. And she's the one who will have to use the old washing machine, so what are you complaining about?

Dear Ann: We are three 15-year-old girls writing about SIX people who need educating—OUR PARENTS.

They want to keep us babies all our lives. We three live in the same block and we like to walk uptown after dinner to see what's cookin'. Usually we are home by 9:30. Sometimes we stop in the drug store but mostly we just look in store windows and talk to the kids we bump into. We've met some swell guys and gals this way.

Just because one of the fellows got into a little misunderstanding with the police, our folks say we can't take evening walks any more. Please remember we are nice girls and have never been in any trouble. We think our parents are unfair and we are depending on you to set them straight.—COOPED UP TRIO.

Dear Coop: Glad to hear Continued on Page 10)
