REHEARSE 'CARMEN'... Dancer Lydia Goya and singer Marilyn Niska flex limbs and voice, respectively, as they prepare for the South Bay-Torrance Civic Symphony presentation of "Carmen" to be performed in English at Redondo High School auditorium at 2:30 p.m. Sunday under direction of Elyse Aehle.

150 in Cast of 'Carmen' To Be Presented Sunday

One hundred fifty persons will appear in the cast of "Carmen" to be presented Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Redondo High School auditorium in English by the South Bay-Torrance Civic Symphony. Conductor-director will be Elyse Aehle.

Appearing as Carmen will be Marilyn Niska, who took first place in the San Francisco Operal auditions recently. Lyle Heck, recent tour soloist with the Roger Wagner Choral, will portray Escamillo. Also in the cast will be Patricia Russell Baker, as Micaela; Eduardo Angulo as Don Jose; Jill Rudlick as Frasquita; and Frances Russell as Mercedes.

The chorus will be comprised of the Angelica Lutheran Cathedral Choir, which recently scored a success in its performance of "Tosca." Composer Paul Senia will conduct the closing number.

Also providing choral music will be the Children's Chorus of the Neighborhood Church of Palos Verdes augmented by singers from St. Cross, Hermosa.

Admission will be free, courtesy of the L. A. Board of Supervisors; the Music Commission; the Music Performance Fund of the recording industry through Local 47, American Federation of Music; and the South Bay Civic Symphony Assn.

Persons desiring reserved seats are asked to send a self-addressed envelope and 90c to Mrs. Alfreda Headley, 206 Ave. H., Redondo Beach.
