Waitress Lays Down Plates; Picks Up Artist's Brushes

Customers of Von's Restaurant did not know that the pleasant waitress of this Torrance eating place known to them as Mildred "Micki" Barnhurst was Micki the artist until she started doing a seascape mural on one of the walls of her place of employment last Wednesday.

Painting murals is not a new occupation for Micki, who has lived in Torrance at 1551 Torrance Blvd. for the past six months, and plans to make the All-America City her permanent home. Her murals may be seen in the Owls Club in Ely, Nevada, and in a private residence in Salt Lake City, Utah. She also decorated the walls of Ruben's in Carmel Valley using a Polynesian motif.

Micki Barnhurst said she had been painting "all of my life" and has studied under Gene Baker, Hank Ketchum and Jack Keith. She also is an adept photographer and uses this media as an aid to her painting.

Micki told the HERALD that when she finishes the murals on the walls at Von's she plans to do portraits of her prominent customers to be hung on the walls after they have been autographed. She added that she hoped to do a rendering of Mayor Albert Isen to start the series.
