

Open Station Ceremony to For Rescuers

Dedication ceremonies for Los Angeles County's new South Bay Lifeguard Headquarters building in Redondo Beach will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m.

The new structure is at 1101 and St. Already occupied and in operation, it is the most modern lifeguard facility on the West Coast.

Participating in the public ceremony will be Burton W. Chace, Chairman of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors and the mayors of the cities of Redondo Beach, Hermosa Beach, Torrance, Manhattan Beach, and El Segundo.

The Redondo Union High School Band will provide music for the affair.

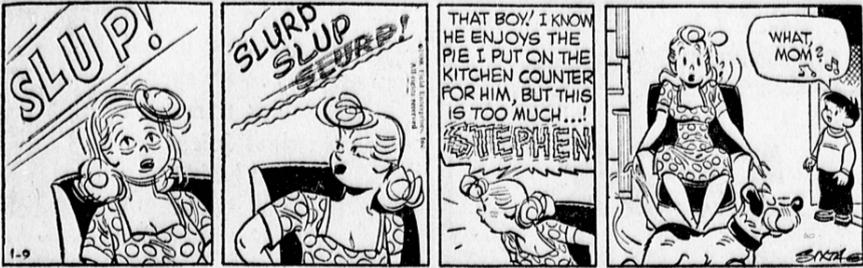

A highlight of the dedication program will be a simulated air-sea rescue of potential drowning victims of the Redondo Beach Breakwater with units of the Sheriff's Dept. Aero Detail, the County Underwater Recovery and Rescue Team, North American Aviation Corp. and the County Lifeguard Rescue Boat "Baywatch" all participating.

A memorial plaque to the late L. R. "Rusty" Williams, for many years director of the County Parks and Recreation Aquatics Division will be unveiled.
