A meeting of the South Bay and Harbor districts of the Occidental College Women's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Earl Brown of Redondo Beach, Jan. 27, to plan and make the table decorations for the Feb. 7 meeting to be held at the college.

This was the annual night meeting and Mrs. R. Roland Smith, president, invited all the parents and friends of Occidental to attend, particularly the fathers who have very little opportunity to visit the college.

The theme of the decorations was "Sports," and the centerpieces of the tables were the various sports in which Occidental College participates.

Besides the local women attending, Mrs. R. Roland Smith, club president, from Pasadena, and Mrs. L. M. Venegoni, tea hostess, from Arcadia, were present to help with the planning. Others present were Mrs. Kenneth Deets, who assisted Mrs. Brown, W. Blaine Allman, Robert Sharp, from Palos Verdes; Richard Mason and Marvin Labory, from Gardena; R. J. Hester and James McMillen, from Torrance; J. Devaney and Charles Post from Hermosa Beach, Richard Shoemaker from Manhattan Beach, and George Badstuber, from Hawthorne.

Sorority to Stage Social

No business—strictly social—is the program for the February meeting of the Delta Gamma South Bay Alumnae chapter.

Mrs. Harry P. Carpenter has arranged for luncheon to be served at The Polynesian restaurant at 12 noon this Tuesday. Among the guests will be Mrs. George Robbins, president of the Southern California Council of Delta Gamma.

All Delta Gammas are invited to attend. Reservations must be made on or before Friday, with Mrs. John J. Vogelzang, 527 24th St., Manhattan Beach.

The members spent a most rewarding morning recently when they visited the Spastic Children's Foundation training center at 1307 W. 105th St. The tour, conducted by Mrs. Hilda Dean, administrator, had been scheduled so that the group could see the children in a typical morning's program which included schoolwork, outdoor activities, and occupational and physical therapy, as well as enabling them to see the pleasant, comfortable facilities for those in residence. The home can accommodate 37 children, 20 day students and 17 who live at the center throughout the week.

It was a moving and memorable experience for all who attended and presented an even greater incentive towards making their Feb. 15 "Fun and Funds" party a success, stated Mrs. James Lafferty, publicity chairman.
