What can you buy today for 8 cents a pound?

... Besides Steel, that is!

Now the nickel has followed the penny into the class of forgotten coins—good only for a hard-to-find parking meter or gum machine. So the man in the street and the lady in the supermarket may well ask: "What ever happened to the dime?"

So, too, our question is pertinent... What, besides steel, can you still buy for as little as eight cents a pound? Not bread nor meat nor milk... Not fish, nor fowl nor fodder... And certainly no other metal costs so little. Steel is not only the least expensive but the most versatile of all metals! That is why it is the most widely used metal in the world.

Steel... metal of a million uses
