Waterlogged Homeowners Pick Officers

A group of waterlogged homeowners on Fiat, Jay, and 222nd Sts. met Sunday night to organize the Southwest Keystone Civic Improvement Assn., to act on flood conditions which hit the area hard twice within the past two months.

Mrs. Larance Hogan was named president of the new group. Knox Johnson was named vice president and Shirley Johnson will be secretary. They will serve as temporary officers until permanent officers can be chosen at a general meeting in April. The group is seeking use of the 223rd Street School auditorium for its first general meeting.

Supervisor Burton W. Chace and a speaker from the County Roads Department will be asked to participate, according to Hank Watton, general program chairman.

Mrs. Hogan said the group would seek the general improvement of the area, dealing first with flood conditions which have filled the streets with water and sent water lapping at the front doors of the residents. The streets involved are private streets.

Ishkabibble Featured at Marineland

Ishkabibble, the comic with the low-cut bangs and the high-kicking trumpet, who for 15 years was the sensation of the Kay Kyser Orchestra, opened Tuesday night at the Marineland Restaurant in Palos Verdes.

Appearing with Ishkabibble in the dining spot's entertainment arena, the "Porpoise Room," will be his stellar comedy-musical group, announces owner George M. Foster, who has signed the sparkling performers for a limited engagement.

Presentation of the riotous personality and musicianship of Ishkabibble is in line with Marineland Restaurant's growing entertainment policy to meet the ever-increasing demands of a show-wise public by offering top-talented name artists in the "Porpoise Room."

New Fertilizer In Big Welcome

Home gardeners are so enthusiastic about a "new kind" of "Red Star" steer manure that sales already are setting all-time records, according to company officials. "The reason is simple," they maintain. "Our exclusive new infra-red process 'double-cures' the manure. It is lighter, drier, finer textured and far easier to spread. Yet the price has not gone up one penny!"

In the new process, steer manure already aged a year or more is further treated by the "accelerated sunshine" of infra-red radiation. Special precision controls were developed by Red Star engineers to attain the exact properties wanted. Moisture content is properly decreased. There is double assurance that all weed seeds have been killed. The manure is lighter, and has a higher percentage of organic matter.

Another important factor is a completely new method of double-screening. To give full assurance that sticks, stones and other foreign material are eliminated, positive sifting action is employed instead of the usual revolving screens. In addition, the manure continually is turned over while being conveyed from one stage of the process to another. The result is steer manure with a uniform fine texture that is far easier to spread by hand or with a spreader.
