More than 6000 items are attractively displayed in the 20 low-lying counters which comprise the major part of the extensive grocery department at the newest Jim Dandy market.

Conveniently marked with rustic lamp-like fixtures especially made and colored for Jim Dandy, the luxuriously appointed counters also feature a 20-foot-wide aisle, making the department the most spacious in any Jim Dandy market.

Centrally located and easy to reach through the store's automatic doors, the grocery department also features a 20-foot-wide aisle, making the department the most spacious in any Jim Dandy market.

Besides the largest selection of nationally known food brands ever offered in one of the firm's markets, the department also displays Jim Dandy's own margarine, detergent, vegetable salad oil, shortening, bleaches, milk, liquid starch and coffee.

Dispersed along the center space each is devoted to the store's complete variety of household and health and beauty aids. Self-closing doors are a special feature of the spotless, refrigerated milk and beverage case.

Displaying are the California-leading Foremost-Golden State dairy products.

Refrigerated eggs bearing the Jim Dandy label are candied and delivered fresh daily to the convenient display area. The eggs are guaranteed strictly fresh.

Running lengthwise in the center of the market are the frozen food cases, which were designed not only for their light blue attractiveness but also for easier selection of merchandise.

Featured are nationally advertised brands of frozen vegetables, fruits, bakery items, juices and other frozen specialties.

Eight foot aisles also separate the frozen food section from the remainder of the grocery department.

With the opening of its newest and finest store, Jim Dandy has inaugurated its first self-service liquor department.

"This means that, for the first time, the customer will make only one stop at the checkstand," said Store Manager Norman McCrary who is in direct charge of the liquor department.

All regular brands, plus those carrying Jim Dandy's special label, are displayed in a 90-foot section along the east wall of the magnificent new store building at Hawthorne and Sepulveda, Torrance.

The well-appointed, five-tiered counter displays a wide selection of distilled spirits, beer, wine, cocktail essentials, and magazines.

Offered under the Jim Dandy Label are straight bourbon, blended bourbon, scotch, rum, gin, and vodka. Comparable to the finest products on the market and distilled and bottled in Kentucky exclusively for Jim Dandy, these spirits offer savings up to 40 percent, firm officials said.

Fluorescent-lighted, the liquor department, like other sections of the market, features an eight-foot-wide aisle and the products are arrayed conveniently for a minimum of reaching.

GASTONIA, N.C. — Police Sgt. J. E. Mosteller, after lecturing a Boy Scout troop on safety, ran a stop sign and hit a car.

Acting as the investigating officer, the embarrassed policeman quoted him as saying that he thought the stop sign was a block away. He charged himself with running it.

NORFOLK, VA. — Miss Louise Beaman's will left four acres of land to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, with a few restrictions. It must look after a pet cemetery on the property, take care of her dogs and use the property as a shelter for animals. And $5400 was left to care for her dogs.

Farm-Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

Shimmering under special illumination along the west side of the newest Jim Dandy market are row upon row of farm-fresh fruits and vegetables.

A stainless steel, mirrored counter 94 feet in length assures that the vegetables, trucked that morning from the market, receive exactly the correct degree of moisture.

In a double-faced display area, dry produce is attractively arranged along 138 feet of easy-to-reach counters.

Eight scales are available for convenience of super-shoppers.

Especially selected each morning at the huge Los Angeles produce market, the fruits and vegetables are trucked immediately to the market and placed on display in time for the 9 a.m. opening.

Jim Dandy's buyers choose only the finest, best quality produce obtainable and the firm's own experts prepare it for display.

The new Sepulveda Blvd. Jim Dandy offers the largest selection of fruits and vegetables available.

In addition, there is a wide selection of potted plants in the department.

Liquor Now Handled at Checkstand

A "one-stop check-cashing service is offered to all shoppers at the Torrance Jim Dandy market, which is staging its grand opening this weekend.

The special check-cashing booth is conveniently located at the east corner of the building adjacent to the automatic "in" door.

A clerk will be on duty at all times to approve and cash checks. The new service means that customers no longer will have to have checks approved in one section of a store and then cash them at the checkstands.

There is no charge for the quick, efficient service, which is exclusive with the new Jim Dandy store.

WOMAN'S PREROGATIVE

SUMMERVILLE, S. C. — Summerville's police force recently was ordered to begin "rigid enforcement of an ordinance against parking near fire plugs.

The weekly Summerville Scene reported the results: "It seems that a good many ladies have been ignoring the fire plugs and the law against parking within 10 feet of them. The police gave some of them tickets but they ignored these too."

Jim Dandy Managers Know Their Business

NORMAN MCCRARY, Store Manager

DAVID THOMPSON, Assistant Store Manager

Directing 175 employees at the new Jim Dandy market, the five-member managerial staff brings a wide range of experience in the food business to the spacious store at Hawthorne Blvd. and Ocean Ave., Torrance.

Three members of the managerial team are Torrance residents and another lives in Lomita.

Store Manager Norman McCrary comes to the Torrance market from the Inglewood Jim Dandy where he also served as manager.

The young Korean War Army veteran has accumulated 10 years of experience in the market business—seven of them with Jim Dandy—since he started as a part-time food store employee while still attending Inglewood High School.

He, his wife, Joyce, and three children live at 21430 Evelyn Ave., Torrance.

Assistant Manager David Thompson, 25410 Oak St., Lomita, serves as assistant manager and has direct charge of the 6000-item grocery department.

A native of Alabama, Thompson came to California via Arkansas in 1940 and has resided in Lomita for the past four years.

An active member of the Torrance Elks, Thompson has been in the grocery business for 15 years—five with Jim Dandy—and most recently served at the Long Beach Jim Dandy.

Manager John Wick brings a quarter of a century in the meat business to the new store.

'Bonded' Tag Insures Top Meat Quality

"An exciting experience awaits even regular buyers of Jim Dandy's famous Bonded Meats!"

These are the words of John Wick, meat department manager in describing his spacious section of the new Jim Dandy market, Sepulveda Blvd. and Hawthorne, West Torrance.

Wick, who for many years has been charged with displaying only the best U.S.D.A.-graded "choice" meats for Jim Dandy counters, has, by his own admission, never before operated in a spectacular setting like this.

Self-Service Counters Specially illuminated self-service display counters stretch 84 feet across the back of the new market building, and each of the hundreds of taste-tempting selections is instantly available.

Flanked by exceptionally wide aisles, the light blue counters are set against an attractive plum colored background. The pastel shades were especially chosen by a Jim Dandy color consultant for eye-appeal as well as convenience.

Displayed in the largest meat department of any Jim Dandy store are countless selections of flavorful, tender cuts carefully selected by expert Jim Dandy buyers who scout the markets daily.

"Customer satisfaction — or your money back" the slogan carried by the popular Jim Dandy "Bond" which appears on all cuts of meat, fish, and poultry.

Special automatic scales have been installed to insure that the customer pays only for the product — never for the package or other wrappings.

Besides the noted Golden Cornish fryers — introduced to the Southland by Jim Dandy — the department offers barbecued chicken ready to eat from the special Rotiss-O-Mat machine.

Like other departments in the market, the self-service meat section is open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Tempting Array In Delicatessen

Sixty feet of attractive, triple-deck display cases comprises the delicatessen department at the new Torrance Jim Dandy market.

The refrigerated cases are well-stocked with a full line of tempting delicatessen items, including cheeses, cheese spreads, luncheon meat, and the finest of imported delicacies.

Mrs. Ardyce Watts is on hand to assist shoppers in the convenient self-service department.
