Summer Session Slated to Start at El Camino College

Nearly 200 classes will be offered in the summer program of instruction planned by El Camino College this year, Dr. William H. Harless, director of instruction, announced today.

Although most courses will be included in the six-week period between July 1 and Aug. 12, two physics and radio-electronics, classes will be offered in a special eight-week course extending from July 1 through Aug. 26.

Registration for students who have previously attended El Camino College will be conducted on July 27, while new students to the college will enroll on June 30. Hours of registration, to be conducted in the Campus Center, will be from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 5:30 to 7 p.m. on both days.

Information regarding placement tests in English, algebra and trigonometry and chemistry may be obtained in the special summer session bulletin available in the registration office of the college. These tests will be given on June 23 and 24.

Among the new courses added to the summer session schedule this year is a course in beginning photography. The course will be an introduction to the basic elements of photography with emphasis on black-and-white still photography. Included in the course is the study of cameras, films, picture composition, exposure factors, development techniques, contact and projection printing, and use of artificial lighting.

Highlighting the summer work of the campus classes in community chorus and community orchestra will be the presentation of the Mendelssohn oratorio, "Elijah," on Aug. 15 and 17.

The classes will meet from 7 until 9:30 each Monday and Wednesday evening during the session under the instruction of R. Neil Hill, choir director, and Calvin Greer, director of the college orchestra.
