Chamber Favors Water Proposal

Chamber of Commerce president Fred W. Hill today announced endorsement by the chamber's board of directors of the formation of a proposed water replenishment district which would embrace the southern part of Los Angeles County.

A plan to ensure maintenance of underground fresh water levels by means of setting up such a district was proposed by the Joint Committee on Water Replenishment and endorsed by the Central Basin and West Basin water association last month.

Provisions of the proposed water replenishment district program would prevent seepage of sea water into the fresh water supply by means of barrier wells. Proper supply of water would be maintained by spreading ground and injection wells which would pump water into the ground.

Taxpayers would not be assessed more than half a cent for each $100 property valuation.

Loan Firm Dividend at 4 Per Cent

More than $185,000 will be paid to Harbor area residents Sept. 30 when First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of San Pedro issues third quarter dividends on savings accounts.

Dr. J. L. Bloch, president of the local thrift and home loan institution, announced that the quarterly dividends are being paid at the rate of 4 per cent per annum.

First Federal's Board of Directors has also voted to pay fourth quarter dividends for 1958 — due Dec. 31 — at the same 4 per cent per annum rate, Bloch revealed.

Since early spring, banks and savings and loan associations across the nation have been reducing dividend rates on savings accounts. Action of the local institution in continuing the current high dividend rate was seen as an indication of growing strength and activity in the local economy.

Bloch reported further that savings deposits during the past several months have greatly increased and are running considerably ahead of the same period last year.

MEETING DELAYED

Rotarians canceled their regular luncheon meeting yesterday to give members a chance to rest up from the annual Rotary-Kiwanis picnic held Sunday at Torrance Park.

Bell Labs Develop New Anti-Missile

A new anti-missile-missile system is now being designed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories, research and development arm of the Bell System, local Pacific Telephone manager R. S. Pyle announced this week.

Named the Nike-Zeus, it will be an entirely different breed of missile system. It is being designed and built with but one goal in mind: the interception and destruction of inter-continental ballistic missiles.

The missile, named after the supreme deity of Greek mythology, is the third in a family of Army ground-to-air defense missiles. Forerunners of the anti-missile-missile are Nike Ajax, which is now guarding major strategic and industrial areas in the Southland, and the Nike-Hercules, which supplements the Ajax with greater range and nuclear warhead capability.

Fast-Acting Technologist Saves Patient's Life

Quick thinking on the part of Edgar Ross of 21147 La Salle, chief technologist of Riviera Hospital, has been credited with saving the life of Ross Reed of Hermosa Beach, who underwent surgery for the removal of a cancer of the esophagus at the hospital last week.

Ross received an emergency call for an additional eight pints of scarce type blood when complications arose during the 14-hour operation Wednesday, Sept. 17. With his own supply exhausted, Ross tried in vain to procure blood from the Red Cross, local hospitals, and commercial blood banks.

* * *

REALIZING THAT a man's life depended on the procurement of eight pints of blood, the technologist searched the hospital records for names of nurses with the correct blood type. The search netted two pints.

Remembering that policemen usually had their blood types entered into records in case of accident, Ross placed an emergency call to the Hermosa Beach police station, where the patient had been employed as desk sergeant for many years.

* * *

A POLICE RADIO call by the Hermosa police force to other forces in the area brought donors from the Torrance, Palos Verdes, Manhattan Beach and Hermosa police forces.
