Entertains

Mrs. Eugene Cook was hostess to her bridge club last Thursday at her home, 2703 Arlington Ave.

... Ann Landers

meantime, nothing changes except the color of her hair. The following letter was written by a woman who was a member of the club for many years but, as is usually the case, she didn't realize it till now.

Dear Ann: When my son was 17 he enlisted in the Navy. A few weeks before he was to leave his girl told him she was pregnant. He offered to marry her.

Now, four years later, my son is married to a nice girl and they have two children. This first girl came to my home recently and told me the whole story.

She came to me because she heard we're considering buying the house next to hers. She begged me not to. I agree we should not be neighbors.

Tell the mule (I mean your husband) under no circumstances will you move into that house. Since you seem to be in the market for a new home, look at the other end of town and the further away the better.

'Harvest Moon Ball' Plans Are Complete

Preparations are now being completed to assure a gala evening of dancing and entertainment for those attending the Nativity Mothers club 'Harvest Moon Ball' which will take place Saturday evening, Nov. 8.

The decorating committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Clyde Anderson, has done an excellent job in turning the Retail Clerks auditorium, scene of the dance, into a splendor of autumn color.

Several get-acquainted dances are planned, according to Mrs. Norris Carstenson, chairman and Mrs. Harley Berman, co-chairman.

Music will be furnished by the popular Fred Gray orchestra from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

The main door prize will be a three-day paid vacation to the 'Star Duct' hotel in Las Vegas. There will also be several other door prizes.
