Effective December 15, 1791 — First Ten Congressional Amendments

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

Effective December 15, 1791

PREAMBLE

The conventions of a number of the States having at the time of their adopting the Constitution, expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added: And as extending the ground of public confidence in the Government, will best ensure the beneficent ends of its institution.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

No Soldier shall, in time of peace be quartered in any house, without the consent of the Owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated and no Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a Grand Jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service, in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any Criminal Case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation.

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining Witnesses in his favor, and to have the Assistance of Counsel for his defence.

In Suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

'Toys for Tots' Drive in Slump

DECEMBER 14, 1958 TORRANCE HERALD

Christmas morning smiles for thousands of less fortunate children will depend on action by grownups now in this community.

That was the report today as the 1958 "Toys for Tots" drive passed the half-way point. The 5th Communication Company, one of the Marine Corps Reserve sponsors in this area, reported that the number of toys collected to date is still below expectations.

Major Richard J. AnGersen, commanding officer of the company said today that many more toys must be collected before the drive ends Friday.

The response has been great, Lyle Andersen said, but much more must be done if this is to be a Merry Christmas for all the youngsters. Toys collected in the charitable drive are distributed to less fortunate children in this area by accredited welfare charity agencies at Christmas.

Collection stations in this area are at the following stations: 1701 Crenshaw Blvd., 3819 Artesia Blvd., 3205 Calle Mayor.

One new or usable toys munication Company, USMCR, should be donated, as the Ma- Long Beach, the 16th Rifle Fines have no facilities for toy Company, USMCR, Seal Beach, repair. Further information is and the 71st Infantry Com- available from the 5th Com pany, USMCR, Compton.

Los Cancioneros To Sing Friday At Malaga Cove

A program of Christmas music will be presented by members of Los Cancioneros at the Malaga Cove School in Palos Verdes Friday evening beginning at 8 p.m., it was announced this week.

The popular choral group, composed principally of residents of the Hollywood Riviera section of Torrance will present their program before members and guests of the Palos Verdes Arts Assn.

The group, under the direction of Barbara Mahin, sang last evening at the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection following a potluck smorgasbord for members of the couples' club.

The special Christmas program includes traditional carols, a Spanish Carol with instrumental accompaniment, an Italian Christmas round, and a special arrangement of "O Holy Night," with harp.
