

"Take Time to Review Our Achievements" was the theme chosen for the last association meeting of the year, held recently by the 186th Street School P-TA in the school auditorium.

Cub pack 725C led the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. Walter Stewart, president, presented Otho Story, cubmaster, with the group's new charter.

Mrs. C. N. Peterson, president of Gardena-Wilmington Council, installed the officers for the 1959-60 executive board. Those installed included Mmes. Donald Dittman, president; Merrill Lindley, first vice president; Paul Tobey, second vice president; Niels Iverson, secretary; Frank Garst, treasurer; Ward Grant, auditor; Bill Throver, historian, and Walter Stewart, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Niels Iverson, historian, narrated her report as members of the faculty, staff and PTA portrayed tabloid scenes of the year's activities. The association voted to give fifty dollars to the school for the purchase of library books.

Mrs. J. T. Evans Jr., record book chairman, presented the record book to Mrs. Stewart. The book received both the blue and the gold seal.

It was announced that Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Herman Eisenbeiss, parliamentarian, will be officers on the Steven M. White Junior High School PTA executive board next year.

Musical entertainment was provided by Miss Mary McCullough, second grade teacher, and her vocal quintet.

Mrs. Marvin Groves, kindergarten grade chairman, and her room mothers were hostesses.

ATTEND FORMAL OPENING . . . Greeted with a flowered lei from Hawaii at the formal reopening of The Polynesian Restaurant are Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Dewes, who are welcomed to the gala social event native-style by exotic Pearl Clark. Many social notables attended the glittering occasion at Torrance's tropical dining establishment.

BACK FROM SCHOOL

Miss Judy Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Wolf of 21804 Halldale Ave., returned home for the summer this week from Santa Barbara, where she is a student at the University of California.

Diners 'Go Native' at Reopening of Polynesian

Providing a luminous touch to the sparkling "grand reopening" of The Polynesian in Torrance, local society literally went native as they formally raised the curtain on the exotic coast highway restaurant Wednesday evening, June 10.

Scores of Torrance notables entertained with festive parties at the glittering event and assured The Polynesian of a successful inauguration. Many fashionable gatherings were hosted by leading figures from the civic, business, social and industry world.

The momentous occasion in the tropical setting brought out Mr. and Mrs. Andrew D. Shaw, whose party in the new "Haivaki Hut" included Palos Verdes Mayor and Mrs. H.F.B. Roessler, Mrs. E. F. Cameron of El Paso, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hills, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon M. Fay.

Enjoying exotic drinks in the "Samoan Hut" were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Henerson with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dryke, while nearby were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peacock. Also noted on opening night were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Cosgrove and Mr. and Mrs. William B. Lintz.

South Sea Island dinner on the lanai terrace was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Harris, who were the party guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Dewes. At another gay table were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Boland and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Platt.

BEST BUYS FOR THE WEEK

In Torrance Markets

Favor your budget and give a lift to a local industry . . . use more eggs. With more hens this year and more eggs per hen, retail prices are away below year-ago levels. A real bargain for us, but hard on producers who have a heavy investment in the business of bringing us an ample supply of high quality eggs.

Eggs are an excellent protein food . . . a real value. Remember, when you pay 38 cents for a dozen large eggs, your cost per pound is only 25 cents. And there is so little waste . . . 89 per cent of an egg is edible.

The poultry industry also provides us with budget-stretching poultry meat . . . chicken fryers and stewing hens, and new crop young turkeys . . . both large and small sizes. Watch for yearling (mature hen) turkeys. They are delicious, but need different handling than young turkeys; longer roasting is required. With their additional fat they do not dry out, but stay moist and flavorful. Be sure to use the pinch test. Protect your fingers with a paper towel and pinch the thigh and drumstick to test for tenderness. Also move the legs . . . when the joints move easily the turkey is done. A well-done turkey is fork-tender. Test it.

In general you'll find cuts for roasting as the most economical buys in the meat section of your market. This is the usual trend when barbecue season gets rolling. This applies to beef, pork and lamb. At the moment frankfurters are carrying special low-price tags in many markets.

Summer must be here . . . the fair season begins this week!

Columbia

Columbia PTA men proved they were masters over cake mixes at a recent family picnic held at Torrance Park. This was the first outing of one of Torrance Council's newest units.

Mrs. Harry Diamond, ways and means chairman, with the assistance of Harold and Ann McBride, planned the baking contest which lured 11 fathers and the principal, Lester Foster, into the kitchen.

All entrants received ribbons with Colonel Edward Brown taking first prize and Paul Snyder judged the most original.

Following the judging, cakes were auctioned off by Mrs. Raymond McVeigh, and a children's baseball game was featured.

Evelyn Carr

Mrs. Jerry Baker, newly elected president of Evelyn Carr PTA, met with her new officers Wednesday, June 10, to ratify 23 new committee chairmen for the coming year.

Following a welcoming address by Richard Welts, principal, the group heard a report by Mrs. Stephen Boyko on T.E.A. Plans were made for the annual Pink Tea, to be held Sept. 18 at Evelyn Carr School. The next Executive Board meeting will be September 16. The next association meeting will be Sept. 22.
