Remarred Vets' Widows Cannot Collect Pension

Widows of wartime or peacetime veterans were advised today by Veterans Service Officer Sara R. Bridges that they can never have their pension or compensation benefits restored by the Veterans' Administration once they have remarried.

The only exception would be in the case of a remarriage which has been properly annulled.

Before this year, widows of veterans of the Civil, Indian, and Spanish-American Wars, the Boxer Rebellion and the Philippine Insurrection could have their pensions restored if their non-veteran husbands died.

Air Force To Commission College Grads

A new Officers Training School program offers U.S. Air Force commissions to married or single college graduates in flying and technical fields, according to Sergeant Leland Mason of the USAF Recruiting Office at 1319½ Sartori St.

Officer trainees receive the pay and allowances of a Staff Sergeant and undergo three months of officer training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, prior to their commissioning as second lieutenants, Reserve, USAF., Sgt. Mason stated.

Applicants are required to be mentally fit, have a degree from an accredited college or university, and be between 20½ and 27½.

Flight training applicants must not be more than 26½ years of age when they apply, and must be enrolled in a flying course prior to their 27th birthday.

Qualified applicants are asked to contact Sergeant Mason at 1319½ Sartori St., or phone FA 8-1404.
