Dear Ann: You may have 20-20 vision, but you're blind as a bat in one area. May I be your seeing eye dog?

A woman wrote she was fed up seeing her husband around the house in a moth-eaten sweater and old army pants. Did it ever occur to you that he might be the kind of guy who'd rather spend whatever money was available on his wife and kids? Not everyone can afford to buy "whatever is needed" for the whole family. Maybe this fellow deserves a bouquet instead of a boot, Ann.

I know about these things because I'm married to a selfish, egotistical jackass. Every year he has to have a new car so he can show off for the people at work. My old washing-machine fell apart in 1957 so now I wash by hand.

I hope you'll print this for the sake of the unselfish and sometimes heroic men who sacrifice for their families. I know there must be such guys around even if I didn't get one. —EMMILY.

Dear Emmilly: I am sure there are such men around, but the guy you refer to doesn't happen to be one. The letter clearly stated "he has a closet filled with nice clothes and he could buy whatever his heart desired—but he's a slob." Thanks for writing anyway. It was a good letter.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' new booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.
