

DOUBLE CHECKING . . . Mrs. H. E. Moulthrop, tour chairman, and Mrs. Grant Putnam, right, president of the Marina District, CFWC, are double checking flight facilities for the Marina District tour scheduled for Sept. 11. The eight-day tour to Hawaii is open to all members of the 23 clubs of Marina District, which includes the two Torrance Women's clubs. Mrs. Moulthrop is now taking reservations for the trip.

Leave Sept. 11

Marina Club Women Plan Hawaii Tour

A gala eight day tour to Hawaii is being planned by Marina District, California Federation of Women's clubs. The group will leave the International Airport on Sept. 11. Marina district consists of 23 women's clubs including the Torrance Woman's club and the Torrance Junior Woman's club. Members of the district, together with their families and friends, have already received announcements and tour literature and reservations are being accepted by Mrs. H. E. Moulthrop, tour chairman.

Features of the tour and the carefully planned activities include round-trip transportation in a Super Boeing airliner with the traditional Hawaiian greeting ceremony upon arrival in Honolulu, accommodations at the new Waikiki Biltmore Hotel, a Luau (native feast) in the exotic gardens of Queen's Surf, luncheon at famed Waiohi Tea Room, Mount Tantalus tour to important island spots, pineapple cannery tour, and other typically Hawaiian entertainment ending with a sumptuous farewell "aloha" dinner.

As Mrs. Putnam comments, "We know there will be something new to see and do each day of our stay, but we also felt it was important to provide ample free time for our group to adventure and explore on its own. We're all quite excited and thrilled over the prospect of traveling to Hawaii at this important time of statehood, and we're going to have lots of fun 'doing the island' together as one congenial group."

Everyone is invited to join the Marina District tour and a special note of urgency is added to get reservations in as quickly as possible while space is still available. Those interested are asked to contact Mrs. H. E. Moulthrop, 400 Fourth Street, Manhattan Beach, or Mrs. Grant Putnam, 9103 Sixth Ave., Inglewood 4.

A GET-ACQUAINTED AFFAIR . . . Tomorrow evening the Dianas will honor their provisionals at a buffet at the Redondo Beach clubhouse. There will be a punch bowl at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner. Two new provisionals, Mrs. Barre Bodenlos and Mrs. Denis Gleason, center, are being welcomed by Mrs. Douglas Cambren, left, Diana needlework chairman, and Mrs. John Hansford, right, youth chairman.

Deep South Fascinates Travelers

Mrs. Fred Franklin, 23010 Arlington Ave., returned last Monday from a month's vacation trip. Accompanied by her daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Eden of Julian, Calif., the trio made a tour of the deep south.

In Greenville, Tenn., they visited Mr. Eden's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Eden.

In Georgia, they also visited his family, a brother, Kenneth Eden, in Toccoa, Ga., and a sister, Mrs. W. O. Walton, in Shiloh, Ga.

The trip included 14 states, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Arkansas.

In Bardstown, Ky., they visited Stephen Foster's home which inspired his "My Old Kentucky Home." In Greenville, Tenn., they saw the home of Andrew Jackson, Andy Jackson's Tailor Shop and Andy Jackson's Memorial cemetery.

In Green County, Tenn., they visited the birthplace of David Crockett on the Nola Chuky River and toured the Great Smoky Mountain National park in Tennessee and North Carolina.

Other highlights were the Rock City on Lookout Mountain at Chattanooga, Tenn., and the battlegrounds of the war between the states.

In Atlanta, Ga., the Californians saw the cyclorama which depicts the Battle of Atlanta on a 50x500 ft. screen.

YOUR PROBLEMS

by Ann Landers

"Same Tired Plot . . . Different Players"

Dear Ann Landers: I've been seeing a married man for 18 months. I love him and he loves me. Someone told his wife and she phoned me. I denied everything. That same evening my sweetheart came to see me. He said I had persuaded her completely and she thinks the gossip was just a vicious rumor.

That night I told him if he wanted to stay with his wife I'd have to leave me strictly alone. He swore he didn't love her, but claimed he couldn't leave his kids. I said, "O.K., that settles it. Now get lost and don't ever call me again." This past week he phoned me several times. I've slammed down the receiver, but he calls back. He says he loves me and is going crazy. I love him, too, but know now it's hopeless. A terrible struggle is going on inside me and I can't afford to let the battle. What can I do?—FIGHTING IT

Dear Fighting: Same tired plot—just different players. Married man, no intention of leaving his family, fiddling around, but hates to get out of the orchestra.

The next time he calls, tell him if he phones you again you'll pay his wife a visit and tell HER what to do. This is a mighty strong threat but since you're fighting hard to build a new life and he insists on making it rough, use the heaviest ammunition available. And keep your word if he bothers you again.

Dear Ann: You said the readers were against you 50 to 1 on the ducktail haircut for teenage boys. Well, make it 10 to 2. I'm on YOUR side.

The fresh punk who bragged about getting six haircuts a year and considers himself "a perfect gentleman" betrayed himself when he made such rude comments as "your eye-balls need cleaning, Annie," and "Old umpires need glasses." He also made the smart remark that "a corny high school principal isn't an authority on hair because most high school principals haven't any."

From his letter it's apparent he's a sassy, impudent hood whose personality matches his haircut.—CASUAL OBSERVER

Dear Ann: There's a difference of opinion on how this problem should be handled. My cousin insists on bringing her 9-year-old daughter to all grown up functions—hotel dinners, weddings, showers, parties of all kinds. The girl cuts into conversations and

Bride-Elect Is Honored

Miss Karen Davenport, bride-elect of Charles Reese, was complimented at a pre-nuptial shower last Wednesday evening given by Mrs. Linda Calkins at the home of Mrs. Ray Reese, 2727 Cabrillo Ave.

Decorations were in the all white theme. A white decorated cake centered the table which was also decorated with white wedding bells.

Several appropriate games were played and refreshments were served. Miss Davenport opened an array of gifts for her future home.

Attending the party were Mmes. Myra Ayres, Ethel Pitts, Pat Dawes, Betty Youngblood, Winnie Brooks, Barbara Pitts, Pat Garrison, Esther Garrison, Linda Velasquez, Vera Fouts, Marilyn McLeod and Misses Edith Gilman and Pat Miller.

At Banquet

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Foley of South Shores were guests of old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Buntrock of Storm Lake, Iowa, at a banquet Wednesday evening for the International Photographers convention at the Statler. On Friday, the Iowans were dinner guests at the Foley home.

Constance Walton Is Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford E. Walton, 1415 Acacia Ave., announce the engagement of their daughter, Constance May, to Ensign James Mortimer Greenfield, Jr., whose parents reside in China Lake.

Miss Walton received a BA degree in June from the University of California at Riverside, where she was selected as the outstanding woman of the year 1958-1959. She was a member of the California Club; Glangarries, women's service club; Prytanean, women's honorary society; and served as Associated Women Students' president for two years. Connie as she is known to her friends, was born in Torrance and was graduated from Fern Ave. Elementary School and Torrance High School in 1955. She will teach in a Riverside elementary school this fall.

Her fiancé was graduated from the University of California at Riverside in 1958. He was a member of the California Club; Gaels' men's service club; Sports Editor of Highlander, school paper; Tartan (annual) staff; varsity football team; Big C Athletic Society (letterman). He was recently graduated from Officers Candidate School of the U. S. Naval Reserve in Rhode Island and leaves soon on a tour of duty.

Wedding plans are indefinite.
