Local Jump Shot Artist Will Resume Studies After Discharge

Basketball hardly seems a fitting topic in San Antonio's 95 degree weather, but the separation of jump shot artist Art Sues from the Army, has Sues looking ahead to next fall when he will resume his athletic and scholastic endeavors at the University of California at Santa Barbara. While Brooke Army Medical Center, the world's largest medical training center, is looking back upon his two highly successful basketball seasons with both admiration for his accomplishments and regret of his departure. It is by no means a trivial feat to achieve athletic acclaim here at Brooke Army Medical Center, such great athletes as Doak Walker, football; fireball Bob Turley, Don Newcombe, Gus Triandos, baseball; Bill Mikvy, Al Bianchi, Tom Marshall, basketball; to name but a few have served here at the Center.

 SUES played under player-coach Bill Mikvy and was an outstanding performer on a team which boasted three All-Americans. He was the only Fourth U.S. Army athlete to be nominated to the All-Army Training Camps in two sports, basketball and volleyball. The Olympics. Sues and several teammates were hailed for their excellent play by Monterey's newspapers, as they split a two-game series with the National All-Stars.

 SUES, WHOSE parents live in Torrance, California, is a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity on the Santa Barbara campus. The Army Medical Center will be following with great interest, Art Sues' next basketball season at Santa Barbara.

Local Residents Place in Model Airplane Event

Three Torrance residents were among the many award winners at the 1959 National Model Airplane Championships held this past week at the Los Alamitos Naval Air Station. The award winners were David Fuchsberger, 2224 South Vermont, who took second place in the Junior Class "A" gas powered free flight event; Ronnie Young, 3314 W. 168th Street, who placed second in the Team Race Event; and Marvin Forman, 5302 Via Del Valle, a third place winner in the Open Nordic A-2 Glider Event.
 More than 1300 model airplane builders and flyers were entered in the competition. Entrants represented all fifty states. Competition was conducted in three classes, Junior for contestants under 16, Senior for ages 16-21, and Open for all those over 21.
 The event, sponsored by the Academy of Model Aeronautics, is considered to be the "world series" of model aviation. It was hosted by the United States Navy.

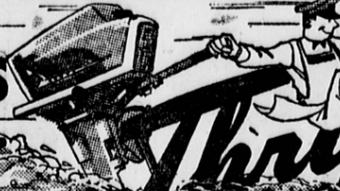

Catches Good In Yellowtail Derby This Week

Fishing at the Coronado Island caught fire again last weekend, and catches of over 1000 large yellowtail a day were in vogue as the third week of the final eight-week section of the $25,000 San Diego Yellowtail Derby got under way.
 Saturday's take of 1094 yellowtails, topped off by a catch of 158 in the 18 to 25-pound class by anglers aboard Bill Poole's Polaris, sent minimum qualifying weight in the final period climbing to 19 pounds 7 ozs.
 Prize winning yellowtails of the week included: 27-6, W. L. Troup, Escondido; 27-4, Mrs. Catherine Jones, Vista; 27-2, Gene Hausser, Bloomington, 26-0, Les Stark, South Gate; 25-12, Dr. H. W. Bull, San Diego.
 Large white sea bass also turned up in numbers at North Coronado Island and one of the banner catches of the week was 62 husky whites and 41 yellow rucked up by a party of 12 Whittier anglers headed by Dr. John Kish, fishing from Chuck Gillam's Admiral.
 Only qualifiers this week from the Torrance sector were: 21-0, James Keeney, 1704 Largo St., Compton, and 20-12, Ronald Figueredo, 5107 Dee Lane, Torrance.
