Orientation Session for New Teachers Starts Here Today

Speeches, tours, steaks, and lots of hard work are in prospect for Torrance's 950 school teachers who will start back to work before their students.

Some 215 new teachers will report today for orientation sessions, while 735 returning teachers will show up on Tuesday, Sept. 8. They will be preparing for Thursday, Sept. 10, when some 25,000 youngsters return to classes at the district's 28 elementary and three high schools.

In orientation sessions, new teachers will report to their assigned buildings for instructions from principals. They will tour the district's facilities — administration building, Educational Materials Building, and service facilities. They will get their classrooms ready for children.

At 4:30 today they will attend a steak fry sponsored by the Torrance Chamber of Commerce in Torrance Park. The Torrance Education Assn. will

ECC Reports Surge in '59 Enrollment

El Camino College counselors have registered more than 5000 students during the first three weeks of registration. W. Holmes Smith, assistant director of student personnel, noted. Demands for additional counseling appointments have necessitated the extension of the afternoon registration program for full-time students, the college administration added. Additional afternoon hours have been made available through September 4.

Since all prospective full-time students must see a counselor, appointments should be made immediately if an adequate program of courses is expected.

A total enrollment of over 11,000 is anticipated with registration closing September 4. Classes for the Fall semester begin September 14.

THREE VICE PRINCIPALS APPOINTED

Assignment of three vice principals to new posts at Torrance elementary schools was announced this week by Robert Morton, personnel director.

John McGee, who served last year at Fern-Greenwood School, will move to Carr School. New Fern-Greenwood vice principal will be Ralph Wilson, who taught last year at Carr School. Taking over at Wood School will be John Kasser, recently promoted from his former teaching position at Seaside School.

Vice principals are assigned to elementary schools where enrollment is larger.
