Lomita Chamber Plans Quarterly Dinner Session

The Lomita Chamber of Commerce will hold their quarterly dinner at the Wayfarer's Restaurant, 2230 Pacific Coast Hwy., Sept. 16th. One hundred tickets will be on sale with the directors and the Chamber office.

About 20 members of the Lions-sponsored Harbor Youth Symphony Orchestra will be present for one selection. Eugene Minor, director, wants to show Lomita what a wonderful group he has. He is also looking for prospective members for his orchestra. This is a great opportunity for young people to learn this type of musical work.

SERGEANT WARREN F. Nickens, Los Angeles Sheriff's Dept., Forgery Division, will cover the general problems of bad checks. Examples will be shown and instructions will be given on how to cope with the problem. Reservations will be accepted by phone and picked up at the door, according to Jim Becker, chairman of the Dinner Committee. At the last check sales were going at a fair rate and those wishing to attend should not delay. One hundred tickets, that's all!

B. Kenneth Gibson, Chamber manager, warns all businessmen and residents of Lomita of solicitors coming into the area and, also, of telephone solicitations. One of the services of the Chamber is to check on solicitors in the community. The Chamber issues a certificate to any authorized organization. Ask to see it. Any organization with a certificate from the Chamber will be glad to show it.

Tell the others to go to the Chamber office for approval. While the Chamber does not endorse solicitors, it does certify to the responsibility of the organization. Gibson said, "The Lomita Chamber of Commerce will not approve any organization without careful inquiry into their background."
