Warriors Host Santa Monica Saturday in Crucial Meeting

All the Metropolitan Conference favorites came through on form last week end and remained in contention for the league championship. Santa Monica, Bakersfield, Long Beach, and El Camino each chalked up a Metro win. Each loser was held to 6 points on the scoreboard.

Upset of the week end was El Camino's 24-6 trouncing of Valley while scoring honors went to Bakersfield, who tromped over East L.A. to the tune of 57-6. Bakersfield's Joe Hernandez scored three touchdowns, including a punt return of 75 yards, a 45-yard pass interception, and a 23-yard interception.

LONG BEACH, who took Harbor Tech 32-6 will host the strong Bakersfield squad Saturday night.

Saturday night's tilt between the powerful Santa Monica Corsairs and Coach Norm Verry's El Camino Warriors will probably turn on two of the league's top passing stars, the Warriors' Dave Long and the Corsairs' Frank Miyoshi.

Both operate from the quarterback spot in a "T" formation and have been setting the pace for Metro passers this fall.

Game time at Murdock Stadium on the El Camino campus Saturday is 8 p.m.

HOT SPOTS

By BEN and PAUL SMITH

EDITOR'S NOTE—Beginning with this issue, the Torrance Herald will publish a weekly column on Thursdays written by Ben and Paul Smith, well-known owners of the Torrance Sport and Cycle Shop. The Column, "Hot Spots," will generally contain information on the fishing and hunting areas visited by local sportsmen.

Both Ben and Paul cordially invite you to contact them in the event you have news of local anglers or hunters going to or returning from their favorite "hot spots."

Fishing

Ray Sleppy, former resident of Torrance for more than 30 years and well-known angler, called us this week from his place along the Sacramento River in Los Molinos to report the fishing was fabulous—that's what he said, "fabulous." In fact, the best in 20 years. He credited the Todd riffle with producing the daily limits.

Carl Hanni reported good surf fishing in the 2-to-2½-pound class at Hollywood Beach. Good sized white sea bass are to be found right in the breakers, he said. If you go out for these, be sure and take along a few jigs... like a white candy bar or white spooner.

Ed Ando of 18721 Doty Ave., along with two companions, Larry Dale and Harold Brinkley, confirm Hanni's reports that the breakwater bass are really coming in strong... especially with Jed Welsh's Hula Popper. Ed's secret: fish in the full of the moon with the incoming tide. Opaleye, the vegetarian type, are hitting good on moss and green peas.

Les and Bill Braden of Santa Monica tells us that bass fishing is good at Sachuma on plugs. Both took limits Sunday morning.

Arch Starett, 736 W. 228th St., was credited with taking the biggest buck ever out of Mono County—a 225-pounder—with a single neck shot by a 270-caliber rifle. Good shooting, Arch, and our congratulations.

Hunting

Chic Hill is the first of the hunters to report back to us from Utah where he had the honor of being the first man to check in a nice four-point buck at Beaver. Chic is the well known president of the Torrance Rod & Gun Club. Being president, he naturally had to be first in order to set an example for his membership.

Vernon Coil, of 2366 237th St., along with Dave, Bob and George Figueroa, brought back some good looking forked horns taken at Bridgeport, Calif.

We regretfully report (still an unconfirmed rumor) that Paul missed his big buck on opening day at Mohab, Utah. There are two possible reasons for this tragedy: (a) he was blinded by his flashy yellow jeep or (b) at a crucial moment, his big black derby came down over his ears as he was squeezing a round off. At any rate, he will have an opportunity to confirm or deny this rumor on his return soon.

Walt Gilliard, Harvel Guttenfelder, Fred Kimberely and yours truly report "best shooting ever" in the Wister area at Salton Sea on opening day. The sea is an excellent place for local duck hunters to try their luck who can't take time to travel to the famous Tule Lake.

In the coming columns of "Hot Spots," we will have some very good hunting and fishing stories to tell you, along with a few photographs from time-to-time, so watch for us each week.

The Eleventh Frame

By DANNA BARKDULL

Team No. 12, topping the Monday night Mixed Five loop, hitting Bowl-O-Drome lanes on the 9 p.m. schedule a slim one-half game over second place squad Lane & Roderick. Interstate Paint Co. rides in third, two out of first followed by Charles's Upholstery, The Spur and Imported Auto Trans.

After completing the fourth week of their winter session, J. Mercer, Team No. 10 representative, holds down the men's individual season series high with his impressive 50&63-653 cluster as A. Dryva, going the route for Charles's Upholstery, lashed out with the league's high single pitch and scattered the pins for a whopping 235&11-246.

Teammate, V. Looser connected her three for the girls season series topper coming up with a powerful 512&132-644 set, while another hurler of the Team 10 mob, B. Mercer, recorded the female game high of 187&41-228.

The Post Office force holds a one-game edge in the Monday Men's Commercial with the Torrance Police, Blue Diamond Market and Mehring & Hansan bunched in the next slot. Silagy Painting, Team 9, and Skaggs Plastering jam it up one game back of the crowded second, trailing the league leaders by only two games.

Bay Tire Service kegler B. Bake holds down the season's individual series high with his sizzling 605&48-653 tally as T. Justice, rolling for Mohring & Hanson, and B. Didion, The Lords member share solo honors, Justice uncorking a blistering 245&0-245 effort while Didion scored fifth his mighty 229&16-245.

First Crosstown Grid Clash Due Here Tomorrow

The South High Spartans and the Torrance High Tartars, both top rated Pioneer League teams, will meet on the Torrance High field tomorrow night at 8 in the first varsity football game between two Torrance Schools in the city's history.

A capacity crowd is expected for the history making game, which is rated an even choice among most prep grid observers in the area.

TARTAR COACH Irwin Kasten sent his squad through heavy drills Tuesday afternoon and hinted that he might have a few surprises for his crosstown rivals, coached by David Tollefson.

Certainly no surprise, however, is the combination of QB Howard Taylor and Halfback Joe Montgomery, which has passed and run the Tartars to three straight victories this year—the latest one a 33-0 thumping of the Lennox High squad two weeks ago.

TAYLOR AND Montgomery both scored against the Lennox Lancers, but got help along the way from Pat Stuart, playing out of the slot, who contributed a TD and 3 PATs to collect 9 points; Don Baker, right end, who scored a TD; and Alternate QB Don Dobrick, who crossed the goal line.

At stake tomorrow night will be the Tartar's 3-0 season record and a 1-0 league record. South High, who is putting its 2-2 record, also is unbeaten in league play, holding a 2-0 edge on the standings.

GOING FOR SOUTH High's Coach Tollefson will be a fast-moving, triple-threat offense which set Lennox down 25-12 Friday night while the Tartars looked on from the stands.

Led by wingback Joe Austin, who has scored 19 points in two league games, and fullback Bob Wehrhan, who contributed 13 points to the Spartan cause against Lennox, the South High squad has a scoring punch that will cause plenty of trouble for the Tartar defense here tomorrow.

ALSO A THREAT anytime South has the ball is the accurate passing arm of tailback Bill Hargrove, who moved the Spartans downfield in a hurry against Lennox last week to set up the fourth scoring plunge.

North to Host Leuzinger Here Saturday Night

North High and Leuzinger, both winless in the powerful Bay League competition, will clash on the Torrance High gridiron at 8 p.m. Saturday to complete the week end football picture here.

The North Saxons, coached by Bob Shoup, were co-champions of the Pioneer League last year, but a reshuffling of teams this summer pitted the local squad in the stronger Bay League, which has all the earmarks of becoming Santa Monica's oyster again this year.

Leuzinger fell to Mira Costa in the league opener two weeks ago while North was getting its knicks from Morningside 13-0.

The Saxons tangled with the Santa Monica Vikings last week, coming out on the short end of a 28-6 game, while Leuzinger was getting its licks from Hawthorne.

Sandy's keggers coming off their third week of play... defeated. The Noisy Four riders in second, four out of first, followed one down by the Whet 4 mob. Team 7 hurler latched onto the men's early season series high with his 549&117-666 set as P. Sena of the Whet 4 squad cut loose with high game effort, a dandy 231&99-257 pitch. Female season series racked up by P. Ostrander of Team No. 7, connected for 156&99-555 as D. 'Sallows' of the league leading squad scored the girls solo high with her 147&68-215 effort.
