

Decent Literature Committee to Meet at City Hall Monday Night

A general meeting of the committee on Decent Literature and Publications has been called for 7:30 p.m. next Monday at the council chambers of the city hall, 3031 Torrance Blvd., according to Mrs. Francis Stoockle, chairman. The meeting is being called to "stimulate a united community campaign," Mrs. Stoockle said.

"In order for this measure to be effective, it is vital that you, as a member of the community, exercise constant vigilance over the material available at the newsstands, calling attention to the vendor of any objectionable or questionable literature," the chairman said in a letter to civic groups and churches this week.

The committee was set up by the city council two years ago to study the problem of distribution and sale of obscene and

THEN THE HUNT for the dog's owner began. Repeated calls to the South Bay Humane Society, a "lost and found" advertisement in the HERALD, and stories went out from the Gorchester home while stories and calls to the South Bay Humane Society and others were going out from the Zebekis' Hawthorne home.

Someplace, through a news report, the Gorchesters heard of the Zebekis family's loss.

It all had a happy ending at the Gorchester home Sunday morning when Magdalene and her friend, "Lassie," were reunited in a blaze of flashbulbs.
