

Yanase SCIF Wrestling Champ

CHAMP . . . Earl Yanase, Torrance's 98 pound CIF wrestling champion, is first matman in city's history to bring home coveted medal. Yanase won title Friday night at Redondo High, after sweeping through a 31 match season with a 29-2 record. (Herald Photo)

Torrance placed fifth in the California Interscholastic Federation's (Southern Section) wrestling championships Friday night and little Earl Yanase became the first SCIF weight champion in the city's history when the finals were staged at Redondo High School.

Yanase, a 98 pounder, swept to his coveted weight division crown with a three match victory performance in leading his team's fifth place 23 point total. Pacific, with two of the 12 weight division champions, and one runner-up, was a decisive victor with 37 points, although having only four qualifiers at the finals.

Torrance, with six qualifiers, landed 115 pound Adolph Duran in a runner-up spot to unbeaten Alfred Bennet of Lincoln.

Andy Harris of South, a spunky 123 pounder, upset the dopesheet by placing second, losing the championship bout by a 4-0 score.

Harris barely qualified at the league and sectional prelim qualifying matches. South had 10 points, as 136 pound Andy Freas helped the school's cause by winning one bout.

Torrance's David Woodward (141), Gilbert Griego (106), David Fiorelli (157) and Don Dobrick (136) were also eliminated.

Forty-three schools were represented at the day-long meet, with 96 wrestlers competing in a total of 120 matches.

Yanase ended with a 29-2 match season record. At one time he had a 24 match win string going. Both losses were to the same person, Jeff Rigger of Redondo. However, Earl reversed one of the losses.

Although in only its fourth year of the sport, Torrance outdid the entire Bay League, and Pioneer League in the CIF finals.

Mira Costa, last year's champ, and this year's Bay League winner, had 14 points.

1960 champ Pacific High was outdone last week by Torrance in the prelims, on an unofficial scoring basis, but the Pirates from San Bernardino pilfered the trophy with a sterling effort from its three finalists.

Mt. Miguel had been one of the more generally favored schools, with eight qualifiers, but finished second with 29 points with one weight division crown, coming in the 123 pound class after a decision over South's Harris.

Harris, a senior, was a third placer in the Pioneer League finals two weeks ago, and was fourth in the prelims last week, barely qualifying both times.

Duran of Torrance was shutout 5-0 by unbeaten Alfred Bennet, who was a second placer last year in the 106 pound division.

fourth place. South, always tough in its home gym, came back from a 44-39 deficit early in the fourth quarter to explode for nine straight points to command a crowd-pleasing 48-44 advantage it never relinquished.

The embarrassing hassle occurred in the final minute of action in the third quarter, when El Segundo's first one-and-one free throw situation was overlooked by the scorekeeper.

AFTER SOUTH'S fifth personal foul had been whistled, El Segundo should have been awarded the bonus one-and-one. However, the officials were not alerted.

Eagle Charles Matlock sank his shot for a 38-37 lead, and South put the ball in play. All the while, El Segundo coach Bill Hungate was carrying on a vociferous debate with the scorekeepers, who caught the error after South's Jerry Schipper hooped a short jumper.

Then the real confusion began.

HUNGATE, SOUTH coach Jim Hanny, and the perturbed officials scurried like lost chipmunks before a rule book was consulted. Unfortunately for El Segundo, the rule read: "If a rule is inadvertently set aside, and results in . . . failure to award a merited free throw . . . an equitable adjustment shall be attempted if the error is recognized prior to the second live ball after the error. Consumed time, and other activity which may occur prior to recognition of the error shall not be nullified."

El Segundo was out and South was in.

At the game's conclusion, Hungate told winning coach Hanny, "I'm going to put a protest in on it."

ALL HANNY had to offer was the rule book's quotation, and raise for his club's effort. "This game meant a lot to them," he said. "It meant the difference between fourth and sixth place."

South tied El Segundo and Torrance with 4-8 records. "Cliff Roy played his greatest game for South, and Schipper was great on the rebounds," he added. Both are seniors and played their final games for the three-year-old school.

AUSTIN, WHO directed the whirlwind spurt in the fourth quarter, scoring two buckets in one 10-second period, and four field goals in a four-minute span, wound up the season with 358 points in 20 games for a 17.9 average. He and center Mike Andrews fouled out in the final two minutes of the game.

Warrior Baseball Club Drops 3-0 Decision to USC

El Camino College's baseballers challenged the nationally ranked USC varsity Friday afternoon and dropped a 3-0 verdict in the first home-and-home series, at El Camino.

Coach Chuck Freeman's JC nine had a 2-0-1 win, loss, and tie record before the second annual encounter, and gets another chance on March 3 when the same two clubs tangle at Bovard Field.

SC SCORED single runs in the first, fifth, and sixth innings while three Trojan hurlers were blanking the Warriors on five hits. SC had 15 hits off five EC pitchers.

Former El Camino pitching star Larry Hankammer went the first three innings for Rod Dedeaux's SC club.

Former Torrance High triple sport athlete Ronnie Veres, a freshman righthander, went the final three innings for El Camino and did not yield a run.

EL CAMINO, shaping up as another Metropolitan Conference championship contender as the result of a gruelling training campaign, plays host to Cerritos Tuesday at home in another non-conference tussle.

The Metropolitan basketball race went right down to the wire last night, when Bakersfield and San Diego collided in the northern city for the crown.

San Diego, which barely slipped past an inspired El Camino quint Friday, 78-76, had a one-game edge going into the game. Bakersfield, which upset Long Beach 73-64 Friday, could've sent the standings into a two-game tie via another triumph.

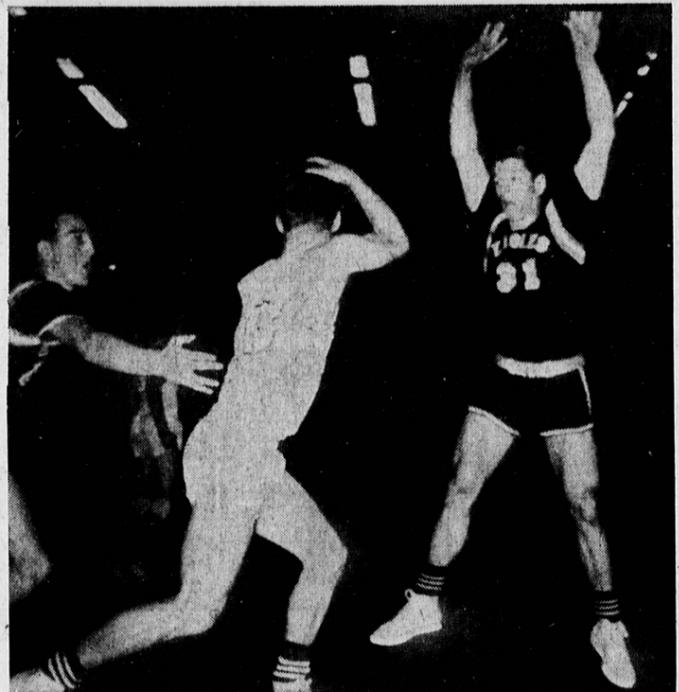

The results were unavailable. Friday, three El Camino cagers hit for double figures, led by center Harry Dinnel's 24, as the Warriors charged back from a 42-30 deficit to score the near upset-of-the-season.

Guard John Boyd directed the local's fast-break attack and pumped in 17 points besides.

Coach George Stanich's club finished in the second division with a 5-9 record, identical to last year's conference mark. San Diego (78) El Camino (76) E. Johnson (19) F. Dinnel (24) Gilbert (18) F. Biggest Field in History Set For Mobilgas Economy Takeoff

The biggest field of late-model American automobiles in the 24-year history of the Mobilgas Economy Run will leave Los Angeles on April 2, bound for Minneapolis, it has been announced by A. C. Pillsbury, chief steward.

The 1960 passenger car classic will take off from the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, roll more than 2000 miles over the longest course in the run's record, and finish five days later on April 6 in downtown Minneapolis.

PILLSBURY predicted that nearly 50 new cars will be entered this year. He said they will range from high-price luxury models to a full complement of the new compacts. An economy winner will be named in each of six classes. Results will be measured in actual miles-per-gallon. There will be no overall mileage champion.

The field will be divided into the following classes: (A) compact; (B) low price, six cylinders; (C) low price, eight cylinders; (D) low medium price; (E) upper medium price; (F) high price.

THE PURPOSE of the run is to determine the mileage capabilities of American cars under the driving conditions encountered by the typical motorist.

Senior guard Bill Reinert (Torrance) was third with a 15.9 mark, while Rick Jacobs (North), another junior, had a 14.8 Bay League average to place fourth in the city.

Jun Watanabe Wins AAU Championship

Jun Watanabe, El Camino College's sensational 115½-pound wrestler, became the first Warrior in the history of the college to win an AAU-sponsored Tournament in winning the championship of the 12th Annual San Diego Naval Training Center Two-Day Wrestling Tournament recently.

Watanabe performed under the banners of the El Camino Athletic Club.

A potential champion, Dewey Weber (136½), pinned his first two opponents in the tournament before dislocating his elbow in this third match. He will be out for the remainder of the wrestling season.

After defeating his first two foes, Warrior Alex Munson (174½) was forced to retire in his third match with a twisted knee.
