Shelley Berman Evening Scheduled This Sunday

Two hundred and fifty members and friends of the Sisterhood of Temple Menorah will attend the Crescendo, 8572 Sunset Strip, Hollywood, on Sunday evening, March 20, in honor of the Jewish holiday, Purim.

Comedian Shelley Berman and song stylist Chris Connors will entertain exclusively to Temple Menorah Sisterhood. Ticket sales were so successful that no more reservations are being taken.

The affair is one of the major fund raising events of the year. The Sisterhood is affiliated with the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods and the Western Federation. It aids in running the Temple Religious School, and provides camp scholarships for deserving youngsters and maintains the kitchen. Recently, a special fund has been set up to furnish the kitchen in the future new temple.

Chairman of "An Evening with Shelley Berman" is Mrs. Edward Sokolski of Redondo Beach.

Purim, which means "lots" is the gayest of the Jewish holidays. Its name is derived from the lots cast before Haman to select a day of execution for the Jews. The famous deliverance of the Persian Jews from their Hitler-like oppressor, Haman, by Queen Esther and her cousin Mordecai give rise to the joyous holiday that Purim is. The full story of the holy insist that he travel by taxi after he's had a snoot full.

Dear Ann Landers: I have two sons who are as different as night and day. The older boy, Hank, is 16, a leader in school activities and sports, loves people and is very popular. He always has a gang of kids over and seems to be getting a lot of fun out of life.

His brother Paul will be 15 in May. He's shy, introverted and the lone wolf type. He has a couple of friends who are also quiet and studious, but he hardly ever gets a phone call.

Paul is interested in poetry, science and math. His grades are tops and he has won several academic honors.

I'm worried about him because all he wants to do is read, haunt libraries and art galleries or museums. It seems unnatural for a boy his age to be so ingrown. The contrast between Paul and Hank is so great it concerns me deeply. What do you suggest? — MOTHER OF SONS

Dear Mother: Your sons have different personalities and interests. Respect their individuality. There's no reason for them to be carbon copies of one another.

I see no cause to worry about a boy who makes top grades, likes art galleries, libraries and museums. Not all kids have magnetic personalities that draw crowds — and maybe that's good.

Parents who want their children to be popular are usually trying to relive their own lonely childhood. Leave Paul alone. He may be happier than gregarious, out-going Hank.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well Liked" enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

WHAT'S DOING

R. S. Pyle, your Telephone Manager in Torrance

Telephone men wearing headsets aren't too unusual a sight in our business.

This man, for instance, makes final checks on newly installed phones to make sure they're ready to use. Also, from his special test desk he traces out trouble reports so repair men can get right on the job. You may never have occasion to see a deskman at work. But remember he's always ready to track down any sign of trouble on your line and help keep your telephone a service you can count on.

The last place you might expect to find coal is in your telephone. But it's there, all right. In each telephone mouth-piece there are tiny coal granules that change voice waves into waves of electric current. Phone people are very particular about this coal—they get a special, hand-picked anthracite from Pennsylvania. First, it's crushed, ground, sifted and sorted. Next, it's washed, rinsed, dried, tested for cleanliness and roasted 24 hours at temperatures up to 2048° F. Then it's cooled, tested again, and stored for six months before it's used. Sound complicated? Yes! But it's just one of the ways we work to make your telephone more dependable — more valuable to you.

... that's the title of a sparkling, new telephone movie in color available without charge to business organizations, clubs and schools.

This entertaining film, starring that master of comedy, Fred Clark, shows how many important business deals can be lost just by improper handling of telephone calls. Certainly all of us can learn a lot from this film and enjoy many laughs in the bargain.

A call to our Film Desk, MAdison 1-1811 is all that's needed to arrange for a showing to your group, or call your Business Office.
