PEP BOYS AWARD . . . Tracy Lee Cogbill receives Pep Boys four year engineering scholarship award from Robert Strauss, company executive. Observing the ceremony are Prof. C. Martin Duke, assistant dean, UCLA School of Engineering, (center) and David Gary, Pep Boys advertising and public relations director. Cogbill will attend UCLA. The scholarship provides for tuition, books and supplies to a state college or university.

Maywood Boy Wins Pep Boys Scholarship

Tracy Lloyd Cogbill of Maywood was today announced as winner of the eighth annual 4-Year Engineering Scholarship awarded by The Pep Boys, Manny, Moe and Jack. The scholarship pays for tuition, books and supplies to any California State College of University. Cogbill will attend UCLA.

Strauss, Pep Boys executive, in a ceremony at UCLA attended by Professor C. Martin Duke, assistant dean of the school of engineering.

Cogbill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cogbill, 4041 East 57th street, Maywood. He was considered an outstanding student at Bell High School where he graduated last June.

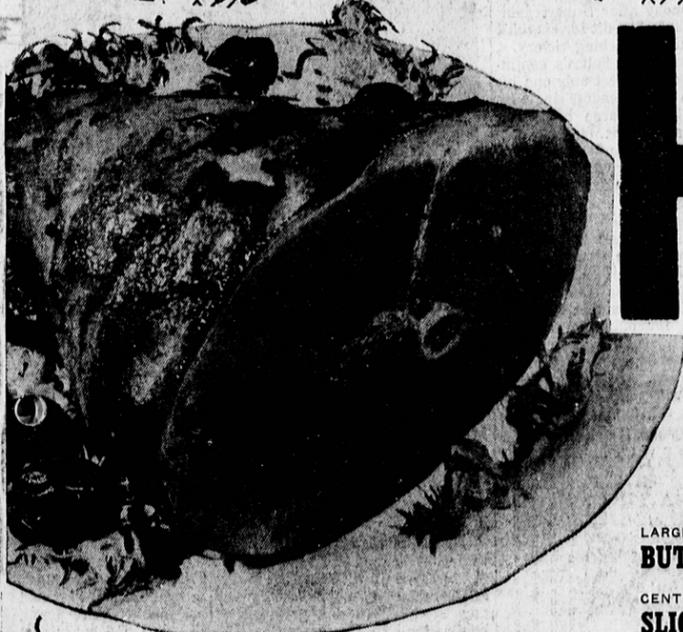

HE WON the scholarship in competition with high school students from throughout central and southern California, the area of Pep Boys operation. The award was made on the basis of an essay on traffic safety, his score on an engineering aptitude examination and high school scholastic standing.

In addition to the scholarship he also received a $50 savings bond and trophy as one of the three finalists.
