Area SPEBSQSA Chapter Opens Winter Season

Resuming a fall meeting schedule are members of the Torrance chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA), it was announced here yesterday by Lloyd Hill.

The group, dedicated to "good, old-fashioned harmony" and fellowship will meet at South High School's music room (R-1) each Monday evening at 7:30.

"It is now the beginning of the winter season," Hill said, "a good time to devote one evening a week to the fun and good fellowship to be derived from 'ringing' chords with other men in good old harmony."

Although SPEBSQSA places first emphasis on quartet development, each chapter starts with a chorus. The quartet develops from this nucleus, but singing experience is offered to all.

Quartets and choruses are in demand throughout the area as entertainers, and sing annually at concerts and other events, plus hospitals
