Club's Star Sales Aid Charities

"We hope to be seeing stars in the neighborhood homes," says Mrs. Marvin Bandoli, Las Vecinas ways and means chairman, as the club completes its Christmas project of making golden Christmas decorations in the shape of double stars.

Workshops have been held at the homes of the Mes. Frank Carroll, Donald Edwards, Marvin Stolley, Robert Presley, and Edward Davis, with other club members assembling the decorations. Ornaments for windows, door decor, package trim and Christmas tree decoration are being sold by club members and business sites.

The proceeds are going into the welfare fund to further the philanthropic projects.

Las Vecinas has adopted four families for Christmas and under the direction of Mrs. Robert Underwood, will purchase and distribute food, gifts and other necessities to brighten an otherwise cheerless Christmas for these less fortunate ones.

Group Plans Christmas Activities

Centinela Valley Reserve Officers' Assn. Ladies' Clubs, at their November meeting in the home of Mrs. B. L. Hession of Torrance, voted to send a check for $50 to San Pedro USO this Christmas, and also to deliver a cake for the USO Christmas party on Dec. 22.

Each year, the director of San Pedro USO arranges for servicemen and women who are spending the holiday season away from home to have a free telephone call to their home on Christmas Day, and Centinela Valley ROAL members are hoping that their donation will make this possible for some of them this year.

Club members with their husbands and guests will attend the club's own Christmas party on Dec. 11. This will be held in the Chart Room at Allen Center, Terminal Island. The committee in charge of planning and reservations is headed by club president Mrs. Allan Affleck, Rolling Hills, assisted by Mrs. M. M. Packer, Inglewood, and Mrs. W. E. Boell, Torrance. Mrs. Carl Bechtold of Hawthorne has planned the decorations.
