

Harbor College to Offer Drama Series on Campus Next January

The Harbor College Theater Arts Department turns to contemporary drama for its first evening presentation of the year, a series of three one-act plays to be given Jan. 6, 7, 9, and 10, with curtain at 8:30 p.m. each night.

Nominally priced tickets are on sale now at the college finance office (phone TE 4-1325), or they may be purchased on performance nights at the theater box office, to open at 7 p.m. Early purchase of tickets is recommended because seating is limited.

"AN EVENING OF Theater" will first present "The Lesson," avant-garde comedy by Rumanian-born, French playwright, Eugene Ionesco. The play concerns an elderly professor and his student, a young coed. The lesson which is taught has been called the most remarkable and bizarre in the history of pedagogy.

The second play will be "Fumed Oak," hilarious comedy by Noel Coward, who castigates English middle-class narrowness and respectability in his portrayal of the Henry Gow family and their fumed oak furniture.

COMPLETING the trilogy will be "Portrait of a Madonna" by Tennessee Williams, a realistic drama built around the character of Miss Collins, a pathetic and neurotic Southern lady.

All three plays will be staged arena-style in the just-constructed "Starboard Theater," located at the south end of the LAHC campus.

Stellar roles in "An Evening of Theater" will be played by three Harbor College students who are majoring in Theater Arts. Eugene Dynarski, to appear as Ionesco's professor, has had local experience with the Horseshoe Theater in Hollywood, the Omnibus Workshop Theater, and the Off-Broadway Theater in Long Beach.

Jo Lesnik, to play Henry Gow's complaining mother-in-law in "Fumed Oak," attended the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. She was a permanent member of the Tamarack Players of New York and for several years played with the Neighborhood Players and the Elizabeth Town Players of New Jersey.

Sue Hanson has combined a career as wife and mother with college study and active membership in the Palos Verdes Players. She will portray Miss Collins in Williams' play.

SUPPORTING roles will be played by Michael Aguilar, Leroy Harrison, Vee Redding, Carrie Henson, Virginia Taylor and Frances Hulshof.

The student production staff includes Seins Sanger, Jo Lesnik, Armando Busick, Patricia Henderson, Vee Redding, Eugene Dynarski, Clem Robles, Frances Hulshof, Sonja Savar, Virginia Taylor, Stephen Lee, Ruth Bailey, Nancy Williams, Britt-Marie Carefjord, Ovetta Steele, and Carole Glazier.

The entire production is under the supervision and direction of Reuben G. Plaskoff, head of the Harbor College Theater Arts Department.

Supervisors Back Plan to Have County Firemen Register Voters

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn's plan to have each County Fire Station designated as a vote registration center has won unanimous approval of the Board of Supervisors, with County Fire Chief Keith Klinger and Registrar of Voters Benjamin S. Hite being instructed to take the necessary steps to put the plan in operation.

In urging approval of the plan, Hahn pointed out that the banning of backyard incinerators had reduced the number of fire alarms at all stations and that it would be a wise use of personnel to authorize County firemen to register voters.

"IN ADDITION to serving as a great convenience to the public, this plan will bring County government closer to the people and it will give the Fire Department a good opportunity to increase its fire prevention work," Hahn said.

When a person moves into a new community, he will soon learn that he can register to vote at the nearby County Fire Station. When he visits the Fire Station, he can be given pamphlets on fire prevention, copies of local fire laws and regulations, information on rescue and lifesaving services available, and important information about basic municipal services rendered by the County, he continued.

"THIS WILL also be valuable to the Fire Department because each station will know when new people move into the neighborhood or when houses become vacant. This will help Fire Department personnel keep up to date and plan their fire-fighting work more effectively," Supervisor Hahn said.

He explained that the plan will be put in operation at each of the 107 County Fire Stations.

He emphasized that the voter registration service at County Fire Stations will be an auxiliary service rendered for the benefit of the public. Firemen deputized to register voters will not be paid for filling out the registration affidavits.

"THIS PROGRAM is an auxiliary program to assist with the overall continuing campaign to get out the votes," Supervisor Hahn concluded. Hahn explained that the plan will not reduce the number of deputy registrars of voters who are on duty in their homes, in front of post offices, banks, and in markets and other public places to register citizens to vote.

Special New Year's Eve Party Set at Disneyland

The biggest "special party" in Disneyland's history will ring in the New Year on the evening of Dec. 31, when the Magic Kingdom presents its fourth annual — and Southern California's largest — New Year's Eve Party.

Featuring the music of five dance bands, hats and noisemakers for everyone, and a surprise midnight spectacular, the Disneyland celebration will take place from 8 p.m. to 12 a.m. New Year's Eve, and will offer party-goers a complete ticket "package".

Included in the price of each ticket is the following: Admission to Disneyland; admission to every attraction and ride in the Park, as many times as you desire; dancing to the music of five bands at separate locations; hats and noisemakers; and the midnight spectacular.

SUPPLYING the music at the five dance floors will be Lloyd and Bill Elliott and the "Disneyland Dancers," Eddie Crady and the Commanders, the Firehouse Five Plus Two, "The Young Men from New Orleans," and Johnny Ukelele and his Polynesian.

ADVANCE SALE tickets, priced at $4.50 each, are available now through Dec. 30, at Music City Stores in Hollywood, Lakewood and downtown Los Angeles; at Desmond's stores in Fashion Square, Pasadena, and the Crenshaw District; at Richards Lido Market in Newport Beach; and the Disneyland Box Office.

Tickets will be available exclusively at Disneyland all day and evening Dec. 31, at $5.50 each.

Disneyland's daytime schedule will terminate at 7 p.m. on Dec. 31. The Park will then close for one hour and re-open at 8 p.m. for the New Year's Eve Party. Tickets to the New Year's Eve celebration will not be honored at the Disneyland gates until 8 p.m.
