

Architectural Scholarships Being Offered

Architecture students in junior colleges and colleges throughout Southern California are now preparing their entries for competition in the third annual F.S. Wade Scholarship, according to Georg Babbe, Southern California Gas Co. division manager.

The $1000 scholarship, awarded by the Southern California and Southern Counties Gas Co.s, is made available to students who have completed one or more years in a college or junior college located in operating territories of the two gas utilities. In addition, students from Bakersfield and Long Beach are eligible this year.

GIVEN FOR study in the School of Architecture at the University of Southern California, the Wade Scholarship is awarded for the best original design submitted as a solution to a specific design problem.

Babbe announced that this year's problem, which calls for an original family kitchen area employing specified gas equipment, limits total area to 400 square feet and is to include a kitchen, indoor breakfast area, outdoor dining area, and utility area with space for a laundry and gas air conditioner.

Entries will be judged by a panel of four members of the American Institute of Architects and a representative of the gas companies. To be eligible for the contest, which closes April 12, 1961, students must meet enrollment requirements of the University of Southern California and the School of Architecture.

Students to Visit Area Bank Branch

Members of the Dolores Street School sixth grade class of Mr. Kenneth Almeida are scheduled to make a tour of the Main and Carson St. Branch of the Bank of America on Wednesday, Jan. 18, as part of a social studies lesson.

During the course of the tour, which will be handled by Manager R. E. Ogle and his staff, the youngsters will be allowed to enter the vault and see the safe deposit boxes, and will be taken behind the counters to see how the bank business is carried on.

After returning to school the children will have a discussion about their trip in preparation for a story written about what they have learned at the bank. The children also plan to make oral reports, and write letters of appreciation to the manager of the bank.

School savings plans have a far-reaching and beneficial effect, Principal Linda Campbell said, urging parents to cooperate with teachers in encouraging children to set aside their coins for the purpose of opening bank accounts.

Knowing that habits of thrift are acquired at an early age both bankers and educators are working together to teach children this vital concept, according to Burton M. Oliver, head supervisor of the thrift, conservation, and school savings program of the Los Angeles City Schools.
