YOUTH CLUB HONORED... Bill Leal (center) of 2223 W. 239th St., deputy director of the Torrance Seventh-Day Adventist Church's Pathfinder Youth Club, receives honor banner from William Henry (left) and Elsworth S. Relle, youth activities directors of the Southern California Conference of Adventists, at youth convention on Catalina Island. The award was for the local club's top performance among 50 church youth clubs in Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, and Ventura Counties.

... Court

 Mayor Isen said.
 "When Southwest District facilities are constructed, it will be more difficult to get permission to use other courts," he added.
 The city council Tuesday night unanimously approved a resolution formalizing the city's offer of a site on the civic center. Unanimous adoption had been delayed until all councilmen were satisfied that the city wasn't giving up title to the balance of its civic center.

Expansion of Four Schools To Be Drawn

The Torrance Board of Education Tuesday moved ahead with plans to serve the rapidly expanding population as it approved bids for 10 new classrooms at four elementary schools and ordered an architect to prepare drawings for eight new classrooms at two other schools.
 The Arthur M. Andersen Corp., low bidder, was awarded a $278,000 bid for construction of new classrooms at four existing elementary schools. Work will include: Riviera, 3 classrooms; Lincoln, 2; Hamilton, 4; and Jefferson, 4 and music room.
 Architect Roy Donley was hired to draw up plans for additions of four classrooms each at Calle Mayor and Towers elementary schools.

"ALL WE CAN do is make the offer, and if accepted, sit down and negotiate for the amount of property the county will need," Isen said.
 A meeting of the South Bay Bar Assn. was scheduled for last evening at which time it was expected that the attorneys of the area would endorse the Torrance civic center as their choice of locations for the court.

"A man can usually tell what kind of a time he's having by the look on his wife's face."

A LARGE delegation of Torrance area lawyers and industrialists attended Tuesday's council meeting to add their support to the city's efforts to obtain the Superior Court facilities.
 A similar delegation is expected to attend the public hearing in Los Angeles next month.
