Spartan Debaters in Tourney

The South High Spartans participated in the USC State Qualifying Tournament on Jan. 13 and 14. The following students were selected to participate: Original Oratory: Pat Roseberry, Lavonne Lundee, Helen Marich, Bud Brittenham; Oratorical Interpretation: Diane Kaplan; Dramatic Interpretation: Shelly Lessin, Sally Hovey; Humorous Interpretation: Nancy Hill; Impromptu: Winkle Gilbert; Extemporaneous Speaking: John Brooks, Doug Foerster; Debate: John Brooks, Doug Foerster, Winkle Gilbert, and Paul Harter.

ONE HUNDRED schools entered the tournament and over 800 top speech students participated. Each school had preliminary eliminations to determine their school representatives.

The competition was extremely difficult. The winner in each category went on to the State Tournament. If he was successful there, he would proceed to National Competition.

South High School was proud to have two finalists in this contest. They were Nancy Hill in Humorous Interpretation and Doug Foerster in Extemporaneous Speaking. The finalists were composed of the top six speakers in each event.

Tax Guide For Trucks Available

A free copy of the "Truck Owners Guide to Income Tax Savings" published by the Southern California Dodge truck dealers is now available at Newcastle Dodge, 505 Pacific Coast Hwy., Hermosa Beach.

The pamphlet describes methods of depreciating trucks, sale of equipment, trade-in of old equipment, and other practices in handling truck and trucking equipment for income tax purposes.

Operating deductions, insurance, finance charges, and other phases of truck operations are discussed in the pamphlet.
