

Fifth Annual Pancake Races Due Saturday, Sunday at Disneyland

Housewives from California and six other western states will once again revive a colorful tradition when they compete for savings bonds and cash prizes in the fifth annual California State and Western National Championship Pancake Races.

Originally held in England during the 15th Century — and still enjoyed by the people of Olney, England, and Liberal, Kans. — the pancake races have become a Disneyland tradition in which winners of California regional events compete with champions from neighboring states for the Western National Title.

FESTIVITIES get under way Saturday at 2:30 p.m. Eleven California regional winners will participate in elimination races to select the one housewife who will compete Sunday against six finalists from other states for the Western Championship. Sunday's race will also start at 2:30 p.m. California contestants will

Schools Need Money to Maintain Present Level, New Trustee Says

The shape of Torrance's education for years to come will be determined by voters in a special school support election of Feb. 14, according to School Board Member Robert H. Ellis.

It will be squarely up to Torrance voters to decide whether they want drastic cuts in the present program, he said. In addition to cuts in various academic programs and services, the lack of additional funds would require an increase in class size which would make Torrance classes about one-third larger than surrounding districts, he said.

Each day three different athletic coaches from local high schools will be selected to act as official race timers. Winners will be congratulated and awarded prizes by a prominent personality.

CASH PRIZES in the California race Saturday are $100 for first, $50 for second and $25 for third place. Winners in the Western National Championship on Sunday will receive $500, $200 and $50 savings bonds for first, second and third place.

Added entertainment will include performances by the Disneyland Band, the Disneyland Dapper Dan Quartet and others.

grams. Without more money, there is no alternative but to make drastic cuts.

"IF WE are $1 million short, the major saving would have to be in hiring fewer teachers, increasing class size to about 40 per class.

Expert advice is that the district can expect no new federal support next year. A check with a top adviser to President Kennedy indicated that he expects no new legislation on education until later this year at the earliest, too late for 1961-
