

Today is Heart Sunday, County Chairman Reminds

Today is Heart Sunday in Los Angeles County. Today is the final day of residential collection of Heart volunteers. The collection ends at 4 p.m.

"Whether the Heart Fund meets its goal for 1961 or falls short will be determined by Heart Sunday contributions," said Mrs. Herbert E. Philbrook, Los Angeles County Heart Sunday Chairman.

"We earnestly hope that all residents who are away when a volunteer calls will place a generous contribution in the envelope left at the door and mail it promptly to Heart Fund Headquarters," she urged.

IN EXPLAINING the need for total participation, Mrs. Philbrook said, "The Heart Assn. program is guided by the leading physicians and scientists in the heart field with the support of distinguished laymen from all sections of the country. Your Heart Fund dollars are needed to carry on an effective program of research, professional and public education, and community service activities."

She pointed out that nearly $3 million in local Heart Fund contributions have been invested in local research. "This investment has helped establish Los Angeles as a major center for cardiovascular research and treatment," she concluded.

Those who might not have found their envelopes may send or bring their contributions to the Los Angeles County Heart Assn. office at 2405 W. Eight St., Los Angeles 57, or mail to HEART, care of the local Postmaster.

Bible College Student From Torrance Honored

David Ellithorpe of 8408 Holy Cross Pl., has been chosen song leader of his senior class at LIFE Bible College, Los Angeles, where he is studying for the ministry, announced Dr. Clarence E. Hall, dean.

Ellithorpe is a Sunday school teacher and church officer at the Prairie Ave. Foursquare Church, 18098 Prairie Ave. His brother, the Rev. Milton Ellithorpe, is staff evangelist at Angelus Temple, mother church of the denomination, adjacent to the college campus.

According to Dean Hall, the Torrance resident is among the 600 students enrolled this semester in the day and night classes at the Bible college.

Three National Executives Get Regional Assignments

JERRY L. EVANS Regional Manager

Jess. D. McClendon has been appointed regional manager of sales, E. G. Krig, regional manager of services, and Charles A. Chandler, regional sales manager of merchandising for the Western Region, National Supply Division, Armo Steel Corp.

The region, which has its headquarters at Torrance, is responsible for the division's sales of oil machinery and equipment in the western United States, including Alaska and Hawaii. Jerry L. Evans is regional manager.

THE CHANGES are part of a comprehensive realignment of National Supply's oil field sales organization throughout the United States. Nationally, six divisional sales organizations were combined into eight area organizations.

Evans started with National Supply in 1922. He has worked in stores at Brea, Bakersfield, Santa Fe Springs, and Taft. He was named store manager at Long Beach in 1928, was made district manager at Torrance in 1938, and has been division manager of the Western (formerly California) Division since 1940.

McCLENDON joined National in 1925. He has served as store manager at Bakersfield, Huntington Beach, and Venice, Calif. He was appointed special credit representative and salesman at the Los Angeles office in 1936 and later served as supervisor of stores and assistant division sales manager.

He was appointed division tubular manager in 1956 and division sales manager in 1957.

Krig started with National in 1946. He was promoted to supervisor, merchandise order control in 1951; administrative assistant to division manager in 1954, and staff assistant to division manager in 1960, all at Torrance.

Chandler has been with National since 1935. He served as store manager at Wilmington, sales engineer for the Long Beach District, and district manager for the Los Angeles Basin. He was appointed district manager for the Southern and Coastal areas in 1947, and later became district manager of the California District.

TARTAR TEEN TALK

By Carol Echols

Torrance High has a new teacher, Vernon L. Ashbrook, who is taking the place of Mrs. June Sochel. He came from El Capitan High School in San Diego.

Ashbrook has taught history, speech, English, drama, and has coached football. He is now teaching World Heritage and has already become an active member of the staff. Ashbrook has a wide variety of interests including golf, fancy diving, boxing, reading, and football. He is also a talented actor, Torrance High is proud to have him as one of the faculty.

THE TARTAR honor roll lists 249 students with Juniors leading the school for this first semester. Of these students, 89 are eligible for California Scholarship Federation. Requirements are three A's, one B and no E's, excluding Physical Education.

MARY HILL is the proud possessor of the Betty Crocker "Homemaker of Tomorrow" title. She received the highest score on a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by Torrance High seniors. Her examination will be entered in state competition.

PHYSICAL FITNESS tests have been taken by all the girls in their gym classes which caused many aches and pains for a couple of days. The girls had to display their physical talents by doing sit ups, push ups, softball throws, shuttle runs, and broad jumps. Test results will be sent to Sacramento.

Frandsen Elected by Press Club

The Masonic Press Club of Los Angeles has elected Tom Frandsen, prominent NBC-TV personality, as its president for 1961. He succeeds Lewis S. Young, chief editorial writer of the Herald-Express, in the post.

Others seated were Walter Ames, first vice president; William Latta, second vice president; Leon Charles, secretary; Harold McDonald, treasurer, and James Raymond, sergeant-at-arms.

The club's board of trustees includes Lewis S. Young, Mel Blanc, Walter Davison, Maury Foldare, Charles W. Horn, Hal Marlowe, C. P. MacGregor, Ferdinand Mendenhall, Charles Thomasset, Henry Vanderhook, and Charles Wathey.

The club promotes general knowledge of Masonic standards and goals, freedom of the press, and freedoms of speech, religion, suffrage, and all media of communications.
