

Vet Benefits Not Taxable, Officer Says

Payments received for veterans benefits are not counted as taxable income on either State or Federal Government returns, veterans and their families were reminded today by Veterans Service Officer, Mrs. Sara R. Bridges.

Tax-exempt income includes such items as GI insurance dividends, GI insurance proceeds, education and training allowances, rehabilitation subsistence payments, VA disability compensation, VA pension, grants to seriously disabled veterans for home and motor vehicles, death benefits to families of deceased veterans, States' bonuses, mustering-out pay, disability retirement pay, World War I emergency officers retirement pay, burial allowances and unemployment compensation, among others.

ceived by servicemen or dependents include allotments, allowances for uniforms, quarters and subsistence, and similar items.

Pay received for active duty in the armed forces is taxed by the Federal Government and is collected by withholding in the same manner as civilian salaries. On California tax returns, armed forces pay in excess of $1000 during the taxable year must be reported, including non-disability retirement pay.
