lie to the two now afloat. Tell Louise you have no picture.

Dear Ann: I could kiss you for that letter knocking "Dropping in unexpectedly." With summer nearly here I hope some of our so-called friends will see it and take the hint.

We bought a summer home because we wanted to rest and be alone—away from the tensions of the city. Every week end we are plagued by friends and relatives who just assume we are thrilled to see them. They bring nothing but big appetites and tired bones. I have a housekeeper in the city but I do my own work at the cottage, and believe me, most week ends it's easier to stay home. I've had to cook for as many as eleven unexpected guests on a Sunday.

Is there a solution for us? —TRAPPED

Dear Trapped: Yes. Tell all unexpected visitors you have plans for the day. Fix them a cup of coffee, visit for half an hour, walk them to their car, then get in yours and take a little ride.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry — Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 30 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
