Labor Law Authority to Address Business Leaders Here on May 3

Sylvester Petro, prominent authority on labor law from the New York University School of Law, will be guest speaker at the 65th Annual Banquet of the Merchants and Manufacturers Assn., Wednesday, May 3, in the Embassy Room, Ambassador Hotel.

Nearly 1000 Southern California business, education and civic leaders are expected to be on hand to hear Petro discuss "The Government's Role in National Emergency Strikes," according to Annual Banquet Committee Chairman James E. Shelton, Chairman of the Board, Security First National Bank.

PETRO, a specialist in labor and antitrust law, has gained national prominence as a consultant, author and lecturer on labor and economic subjects, and conservative political theory.

An outspoken critic of irresponsible union leadership, he denounces half measures in attempts to eliminate corruption in unions. He rebukes the special privileges which make the abuses possible.

In his book "Power Unlimited—The Corruption of Union Leadership," Petro organized the vast array of facts revealed in the Record of the McClellan Committee hearings into a coherent picture.

HE SUMMARIZED the evidence, brought the problems into sharp focus, and proposed basic remedies to guide responsible union leadership back to its proper place in a productive, free society.

Other books authored by Petro include "The Kohler Strike: Union Violence and Administrative Law," "The Labor Policy of the Free Society," and "How the NLRB Repealed Taft-Hartley."

Petro is well qualified to discuss national emergency strikes. His broad background includes work in Chicago steel mills, and an active part in the union organizational drives of the mid 1930's; private law practice; consultant on labor law matters; Editor, Commerce Clearing House Labor Law Reports.

PETRO WAS born in Chicago and received his early education in Chicago public schools. He earned A.B. and J.D. degrees at University of Chicago, and is a graduate in law, LL.M., University of Michigan.

Petro has been a Professor of Law at N.Y.U. since 1950. He also has been a lecturer in American Public Law at the University of Rome, Italy.
