Ann Landers

Dear Burnt: The Frauleins may be overweight and over-dressed but they are also there.

Since you aren't engaged he is under no moral obligation to spend all his time in museums and old castles. Trying to go steady with a fellow overseas is for the birds — the cuckoos, that is.

Write and tell him he needn't knock the Frauleins just because he's feeling guilty. Encourage him to enjoy their company and tell him that you are dating, too. Then go ahead and date.

Confidential to OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER: Pajama parties are great fun for teenagers, but why in a hotel? Don't the girls have homes? Offer yours and borrow blankets for the floor if there's a shortage of beds.

Confidential to WATCHED TOO CLOSELY: Your parents aren't punishing you for your sister's mistake. They're just making sure THEY don't make the same mistake twice. You can prove yourself trustworthy by behaving in a responsible way. I guarantee it.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experience of thousands of teenagers if you write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Copyright, 1961, Field Enterprises, Inc.
