

Navy Nurses To Celebrate 53rd Birthday

Saturday will be a day of note for nurses all over the world as the Navy Nurse Corps celebrates its 53rd birthday. Focus of local attention will be a tea aboard the USS Haven, a hospital ship moored at the U. S. Naval Station in Long Beach. Navy nurses in the Los Angeles area will join in the celebration aboard the vessel, according to Lt. (jg) M. D. Bradley of the Navy Recruiting Station at 1520 Cravens Ave.

PRESENT DAY nurses on active duty with the Navy serve at hospitals, dispensaries on ships of the Military Sea Transportation Service, and at many overseas activities wherever Navy men and women and Marines are stationed, according to Lieutenant Bradley.

"The Navy nurse is more than just a nurse," the lieutenant said. "She is a commissioned officer of the United States Navy. She is an important part of the team of women contributing to the strength of our nation through her work in the Armed Forces."

ROUND AND ROUND THEY GO . . . Costumes from various countries were in evidence as Miss Olivia Gomez' sixth grade put on a Pan-American Day assembly at Castimir School last week. The class described customs and characteristics of the various Latin American nations. Here, watching Argentine "gaucho" Dustin Johnson swing a "bola" (Argentine version of the lariat) are Dianne Brown, wearing a Mexican "sandunga" and Danny Bergman in a Peru mountain costume.
