

YOUR PROBLEMS
by Ann Landers

"I Said It and I Meant It..."

Dear Ann Landers: Your advice is usually sensible, but I was pretty shook when you suggested the lady invite her next door neighbor to her weekend barbecue parties just to prevent her from hanging out her wash and ruining the view.

Please, Ann, tell me you were on vacation and some pinch hitter wrote that answer. I'd sure hate to think it was you.

—KALAMAZOO-LU
Dear Lu: What's a vacation? I write this column 365 days a year and when I grab a few days off, the work is done in advance—by Yours Truly.

Now, about that advice that shook you up. I said it—and I meant it. Please read the next letter:

Dear Ann Landers: You must have a large dose of extrasensory perception, or else a special wire that sends out vibrations to Phoenix.

I had the same problem which appeared in your column recently. After reading your advice I decided to try it, so I invited my next door neighbors to our barbecue that Saturday night. My husband said I was crazy (and he said you were too) but he agreed to go along with the experiment.

Well, Ann, not only was there no wash hanging out that day, but they hired a man to manicure their lawn so it would look nice. And the woman and her husband turned out to be a sparkling addition to the party and you can bet we shall ask them again. —FRIENDS NOW

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a teenager in tears. My father insists that every fellow who takes me out in a car show him his driver's license first. Did you ever hear of anything so dumb?

Last Friday night I had a date with a very swell guy who just happened to have forgotten his driver's license. My Dad told him to go home and get it or I couldn't go out with him. The fellow walked out mad, and there I sat. I'm sure he will never ask me out again.

If my dad keeps this foolishness up he will ruin my life. I am 15 years old and I need your help. DEBBIE
P.S. I was in a little accident last year with a fellow who had no driver's license, but it was not serious.

Dear Debbie: Sorry, but I'm with Dad. He has the right (and the obligation) to determine in advance

YOU ARE INVITED . . . To all the women of the area, this group of club members extend a cordial invitation to attend the Torrance Woman's club and Torrance Junior Woman's club open house and tea on Wednesday, July 26, from 2 until 4 p.m. Standing on their clubhouse steps are two members of each club who will welcome the guests. They are from left, Mrs. Joseph Boylan, Junior club member, Mrs. John C. Warnock, Jr., Senior Woman's club, Mrs. Kenneth Boulter, Junior, and Mrs. Sid Gans, Senior. A resume of the clubs' activities will be given during the tea to acquaint newcomers and others interested in club work with the activities of these two clubs.

All Women Invited

Clubs' Open House Slated Wednesday

Highlighting the mid-summer social season will be the open house and tea to be staged by the Torrance Woman's club and the Junior Woman's club on Wednesday afternoon July 26 from 2 until 4 p.m. at the clubhouse, 1422 Engracia Ave.

Committees have completed their plans for the event to which all women of the area interested in club work are invited. Four members of the Senior club and four from the Junior club have been invited to pour during the tea hours. Senior club members will be Mrs. R. Bingham, life member; Mrs. N. S. Jamieson, life member; Mrs. McCune Beale, past president; and Mrs. S. J. Dunhouse.

Juniors taking their turns at the table will be Mmes. Lee Clothworthy, James L.

Lees, Kenneth Boulter, and John P. Schwartz.

Members of both clubs will be busy preparing tea cookies and sandwiches for refreshments which are being supervised by Mrs. C. L. Porter. Assisting Mrs. Porter are Mmes. W. L. Norman, Charles Ward, H. R. Richards, E. L. Snodgrass, and A. H. Brown.

During the tea, a short program will feature a resume of the activities of both clubs.

Participating from the Senior club will be Mmes. R. E. Shaw, ways and means chairman; J. P. Bay, program; David Lyman, drama; A. Z. England, membership; H. J. Osborne, philanthropy; R. E. Moffitt, Federation.

Junior club members on the program are Mmes. Edward Aiken, philanthropy; Clayton Lilley, membership; Edward Felkel, crafts; Jerry Saladin, ways and means; and Gerson Jacobson, program.

TO CONVENTION . . . Mrs. Robert Lewellen, 1307 Madrid, past president of the Torrance Business and Professional Women's club and editor of the club's district paper "TOPS", left Friday evening aboard the El Capitán special train for Chicago to attend the convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs in session from Monday through Friday. Mrs. Lewellen represents the local club. National President Fanny Hardy will preside and Gov. Orville Faubus is a convention speaker.

Medical Unit Schedules Gala Luau

Harbor Medical Assistants Assn. will spark the mid-summer social season with an exotic luau on Saturday, July 29, at the Hughes Employees Assn. Recreation Center, 1316 East Imperial, El Segundo, one block west of the Imperial Bowling Alley.

At 7 p.m. a delicious luau will be served by Hawaiians, followed by professional entertainment after which dancing will be enjoyed.

Hawaiian and casual attire will be the order of the day. Several surprises have been planned for the evening, among them intriguing door prizes.

Proceeds from the event will go to the club's philanthropic fund. Those wishing information may call Donna Lewis or Jean Davis at the Torrance Medical Center.

At Hot Springs

Mr. and Mrs. John McGuire and family, 1811 Marinette St. spent a recent weekend at the Glen Ivy Hot Springs.

Bridal Party Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Sackman, whose daughter Miss Ann Sackman was married to John Campo Saturday, entertained at a rehearsal dinner at their home, 24231 Faena Ave. in Lomita, last Wednesday evening. Included in the guest list were members of the bridal party and relatives. The group enjoyed a buffet dinner before going to the First Baptist Church for rehearsal. Guests were Mrs. Ermania Campo, Messrs. and Mmes. Jim Woods, D. W. Sackman, Mmes. Blanche Taylor, Lucille Wiggins; Misses Joyce and Jeri Sackman, Carol Zuffall and Judy Waller; and Messrs. Bud True, Tom Sackman and Gary Evans.

Colorado Guests

Mrs. Valda Wilkins, 23033 Huber Ave. had as her guests her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Stone and sons Jeffrey and Jody of Denver, Colo. The Stones left Monday after spending a week here.

Local YLI Members To Appear on Television

Members of St. Mary of the Woods 205 Young Ladies Institute will be seen on the "It Could Be You" television show on Monday, July 24, at 11:30 a.m. According to Mrs. Joseph Skelley, president of the institute, 105 members and friends attended the taping of the show on Friday, July 14.

Mrs. Joseph Borges of Torrance appeared with Libera, who was the guest star. Mrs. Borges received a beautiful set of china. Mrs. Jean-Paul Jean, who plays the organ for St. Anthony's Catholic Church, received a Wurlitzer Electric Home Organ. Mrs. Robert Bertels, an expectant mother, was made very happy by a shower of gifts, including a baby layette, bottle set, crib, mattress and dresser. Mrs. Bertels also received $100 in cash and was asked to re-appear on the program at a later date. Mrs. George Putnam played the bell-ringing game and won an electric fry pan, Lanvin perfume and $35. Mrs. Thomas Tittle and Mrs. Richard Zigzag each won a transistor radio for her appearance.

Arrangements for the bus trip to Hollywood and appearance on the show were made by Mrs. Arthur Morin of Torrance, who was chairman for this ways and means project. For its participation in the program, the institute received six Westinghouse electric appliances, which were: a can opener, coffee maker, waffle iron and sandwich grill, toaster, fry pan and hand mixer. These will be door prizes at a later date as another ways and means project.

Gyllenskog-Schwass Vows Read in Lutheran Rites

Miss Shirley Ann Gyllenskog, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gyllenskog, 20840 Denker Ave. was married to Walter Edward Schwass in a formal mid-afternoon ceremony at the First Evangelical Lutheran Church on June 24. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schwass, 20931 S. Denker Ave., Torrance.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white Chantilly lace over white satin. Details were a square scalloped neckline, long pointed sleeves and a bouffant skirt of tiers of the lace. A pearl crown held the bridal veil. White carnations and orchids formed the bridal bouquet.

Miss Mary Jean Dockor was the maid of honor. She wore coral organza over tulle and carried white carnations. Bridesmaids wore Misses Judy Sheet, Mary Kay Incopero, Carol Willis, Carla Walktur and Betty Doran. Their gowns were in the rainbow colors and they carried matching bouquets.

Kathy Doran was the flower girl and the rings were carried by Donnie Garnet.

Brian Gray was best man and ushers were Bill Ginder, Frank Incopero, Jim Willis, Tommy Schwass and Jack Doran.

Rev. Gerald Garlid conducted the marriage.

The 200 guests were entertained at a reception at the Legion Hall. Dorene Elliott was in charge of the guest book. After a short honeymoon, the newlyweds are now living at 1540 Torrance Blvd.

The bride was graduated from Gardena High School. Her husband, a North High graduate, attended Harbor College.

Marshia Tappin Becomes Bride of Richard Smart

Miss Marshia Elizabeth Tappin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall W. Tappin, 2107 Arlington Ave. plighted her marriage promises with Graydon Richard Smart in a formal ceremony at the Central Evangelical Church at 7:30 p.m. on June 24. Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Smart of Walnut Creek, are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride came to the altar on the arm of her father. She wore a Chantilly lace and tulle gown detailed with a square neckline, fitted torso and long pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was ornamented with lace panels. A Mary Queen of Scots tiara held the English illusion veil and the bride carried a white orchid and stephanotis atop a white Bible.

Miss Barbara Ann Tappin was the maid of honor. She wore pink taffeta. Miss Susan Ann Smart, wearing blue taffeta, was the bridesmaid. Each carried a cascade of pink carnations. Ernie Gore stood as best man and Michael Smart was the usher.

Rev. Walter Stanton officiated at the double-ring marriage. Mrs. Hilda Finley played the wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Irene Hoy who sang "Walk Hand in Hand," "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the church hall. Mrs. Floy Cook cut the four tiered cake and Mrs. Diane Gore registered the guests.

The couple spent a honeymoon in Monterey. Their new address is 1433 W. 219th St., Torrance.

Both the bride and her husband are graduates of Torrance High School. Mr. Smart was graduated on June 4 from the Los Angeles College of Optometry.

He left July 8 to be inducted into the United States Army and will serve his internship at Fort McArthur.

Mrs. Smart is employed as a clerk typist at Harbor Hospital.
