A Penny for your Thoughts

California goes off daylight saving time Sunday. The Pennies photographer asked shoppers if "they think daylight saving time would be a good thing all year?"

Mrs. Virginia Lindsey, 2128 248th St., Lomita: "We had daylight saving time during the war and I didn't see any advantages to it then. I like daylight saving during the summer and would like to see it extended another month."

Mrs. Art Comer, 1719 - 257th St., Lomita: "I think daylight saving would be a good idea. The way it is now people have to get used to it twice a year. We had daylight saving time during the war and the majority of people liked it then."

Mrs. John W. Barber, 1109 Patronella Ave.: "I think daylight saving time is better because it gives you more time and you can get more things done. I think they should leave it one way or another though. We just get used to daylight saving time and it changes, fouling up schedules."

Miss Velda Kuykendall, 2315 Lomita Blvd., Lomita: "I think daylight saving time would be better all year. I like the long evenings and it would be better for me driving home from Long Beach State College where I am a student. I don't like driving during the twilight hours."

Mrs. Donald Yoho, 25032 Andreo Ave., Lomita: "I hate daylight saving time. Noon is noon no matter what. I have five children and during the summer our schedules are on standard time. I'll be very glad when standard time is effective Sunday. I don't care for the long evenings."

Arraignment Delayed for Sanity Test

A 37-year-old Torrance mother, accused of strangling her five-year-old daughter, has been committed to Los Angeles General Hospital for a psychiatric examination.

Municipal Judge Donald Armstrong ordered the commitment Monday when Mrs. Matilda Clemensen, of 19316 Donora Ave., was brought before him for arraignment on charges that she killed her daughter with a nylon stocking on the day she was scheduled to enter kindergarten.

The woman told police she had strangled her daughter,

Beverly Kay, last Wednesday because she dreamed the girl and an older daughter were in danger of their lives.

The mother has been undergoing psychiatric treatment and was released from a mental hospital a short time before the girl was slain.

If she is determined to be insane, she will be committed to a state institution. If declared sane, she will be arraigned immediately on the murder charge, according to police.
